Reading

Part One: Reading Comprehension:

Directions:

Read the passage and answer the questions.

1) On January 24, 1988, John Gonzales went on a fishing trip. He left his house and went to the harbor in San Paolo, Brazil. He got on a fishing boat. Four other fishermen went on the boat too. The boat left the harbor, and the men began fishing. The first few hours in the ocean were not unusual. Then there was a terrible storm.

2) The storm continued for 20 days. When the storm finally stopped, the men checked their boat. Their fishing nets were gone. The engine and the radio did not work. There was no food, and there was no fresh water. Without their nets, the men could not fish. But they could get out of the boat and catch big turtles. The men did not want to eat raw turtle meat, so they needed a fire for cooking.

3) They broke the boat's wooden cabin and made a fire with pieces of the cabin wood.

They needed protection from the sun and rain, so they built a simple roof out of cloth. The roof held rainwater and the men could drink rainwater from the roof. For the next three months the men ate turtles which they caught, and they drank rainwater when it rained. Quite often there was no food and no water, and the men were hungry and thirsty.

4) In May, it did not rain for a long time, and the men did not have any fresh water. They were thin and weak, and they thought they were going to die. They put on their best clothes, lay down, and closed their eyes. After a while, it began to rain. The men stood up and began to drink water from the roof. Then all the men began to cry. Ten days later, on June 15, a Japanese fishing boat found the men who were 4,000 miles away from Brazil.

7. What is the text mainly about?

- A. fishing
- B. having fun
- C. meeting friends
- D. drinking rainwater

8. In paragraph (1), what does the underlined word (unusual) mean?

- A. very big
- B. unhappy
- C. common
- D. uncommon

8. How did the men survive?

9. When did John go on a fishing trip?

Read the passage and answer the questions.

1. When I was seven years old, I was given a small wallet to keep my pocket-money in. It made me feel grown up and I carried it proudly in my hip pocket. One day, during a holiday in school, I discovered that my wallet was missing. I searched all my pockets but could not find it. 2. There were nine pounds in the wallet and without it, I could not buy anything to eat. I was about to cry. It wasn't so much because of losing my precious wallet, but because I might be scolded by my angry parents. Anyway, I went hungry that day. 3. After my holiday, I was in no mood to study at all. I kept thinking about how I lost my wallet and what my parents would do to me. How was I going to explain the loss? I did not know whether someone had pinched it from my pocket or it had fallen out. I prayed that someone would find it and return it to me. Luckily, I did not have to pay to get on my school bus. I had already paid the fare. 4. When I told my mother about my loss, she was clearly angry. I received a long lecture about my carelessness. When my father came home, I received another lecture. In addition, I was told that there would not be any more wallets for me until I got older. 5. So for the rest of the year and two years following, I carried my pocket-money, which became only two pounds in my pocket, without any wallet. I am glad to say I never lost any money again. I had learned to be more careful. It is not pleasant to lose something and then get punished for losing it.

10. How did the boy feel when he was first given a wallet by his parents?

- A. funny
- B. proud

- D. cheerful

11. What could the boy NOT do when he lost his wallet?

- A. go to school.
- B. pay the bus fare
- C. buy anything to eat
- D. buy his mother a present

12. What does the underlined phrase “might be scolded” mean?

- A. His parents might forgive him.
- B. His parents might shout at him.
- C. His parents might not trust him again.
- D. His parents might not buy him a new wallet.

13. Why DIDN'T the boy have to pay for the bus fare that day?

event in Qatar

One of the most exciting events in Qatar is the sports day. It's on the second Tuesday of February every year. On this day, I run and walk along Doha's beautiful Corniche. Also, I can do lots of activities with my family and friends. I can play football and basketball in Katara. We have breakfast in the open air. How amazing to have fun and celebrate Qatar's Sport Day outdoors. I really like it and look forward to celebrating that great event.

An email responding to suggestions

Dear Hamad,

Thank you for your suggestions. I'm really excited about the British students' visit, and I think we'll have a lot of fun. I'm so happy because you liked the idea about desert camping. I think going on a day trip to the desert will be a great idea, there are some great tours available which offer camel rides. Also, I think that we should take the group to Qatar national museum, so that they can learn about the Qatari culture. Please tell me what you think of these suggestions. If we decide to go on a day trip to the desert, we will have to book in advance. Write back soon!

While reading

Read the text carefully and the questions below:

1. Jeff was trying to save up money for a vacation with his family. He also wanted to get away from the daily routine, so he decided to find a summer job. It took several days of thinking. But finally, Jeff thought of an idea. It was a hot, dusty summer, and people's cars would be getting dirty. He would offer to wash cars.
2. The first step in setting up his business was to decide what supplies he would need. He was, definitely, going to require liquid soap, brushes, buckets, and towels. Jeff's dad agreed for him to use the garden's hose if he was careful. By the time Jeff was ready to open for business, he had spent $25.00. If he charged $5.00 for each car wash, he would have to wash more than five cars to make money.
3. Jeff and his friends posted signs everywhere in the neighborhood. When people learned about Jeff's business, many came to have their cars washed. In a few weeks, Jeff had earned $100.00. Jeff felt extremely happy with his amazing achievement. Many people thought that Jeff was the best example of hard working and self-determination.

Reading (2)

Directions:

Read the following passage and answer the question

- 1) Penguins are among the most popular of all birds. They only live in and around the South Pole and the continent of Antarctica. No wild penguins live at the North Pole. There are many different kinds of penguins. The largest penguin is called the Emperor Penguin and the smallest kind of penguin is the Little Blue Penguin. There are 17 different kinds of penguins in all and none of them can fly.
- 2) Penguins have to be able to survive in the some of the Earth's coldest and windiest conditions. They are great swimmers and have thick layers of fat to protect them from the bitter cold. Even in their freezing cold habitats, penguins still have to watch out for predators such as killer whales and seals.
- 3) Penguins find all their food in the sea and are carnivores. They eat mostly fish and squid. They also eat crustaceans, such as crabs, shrimp, and krill. A large penguin can collect up to 30 fish in one dive. Penguins (and any animal) that eat only fish are called carnivorous.

.. What is the text MAINLY about?

- A. the living of special kinds of birds
- B. the smallest whales and seals in the seas
- C. the crabs and their food in some countries
- D. the diving swimmers that kill flying birds

2. Based on the text, where do penguins live?

5. How many different kinds of penguins are there?

6. According to paragraph (3) what is the penguin's food?

7. How many fish can a large penguin collect?

READING

- Read the passage and answer the questions...

Rocks and dust are the parts that land is made out of. A lot of rocks are under the dust. Rocks are hard things made out of one or more materials. These materials are found in nature.

The rock cycle has three parts. First, it shows how rocks are made. Second, it shows how they break into small pieces. Finally, it shows how they are made into other kinds of rocks.

Water, wind and growing plants cause change in shape of rocks. This change is the process that makes rocks break into smaller pieces. Water causes most of the change of rocks. Many rocks have small cracks that can let in water. The cracks get bigger if the water freezes and then melts again. The cracks finally get so big that the rock breaks into smaller pieces.

Small pieces of rock and dust build up in layers over long periods of time. The more layers there are, the heavier the rocks are. The top layers always push down on the lower layers. Pieces and layers normally come together to make rocks.

- Choose the correct answer ...

1- What is the Text MAINLY about?

- A) the materials in nature
- B) information about rocks
- C) the effect of water on dust
- D) how water changes the rocks

2- What is the land made out of?

- A) rocks and dust
- B) water and dust
- C) small pieces of rocks
- D) dust and growing plants

3- How many parts does the rock cycle have?

- A) 2 parts
- B) 3 parts
- C) 4 parts
- D) 5 parts

4- What does the rock cycle show first?

- A) how rocks are made
- B) how they break into small pieces
- C) how they are made into other kinds of rocks
- D) how layers are built up over long periods of time

- Answer the following questions ...

5- What causes change in shape of rocks?

6- What do pieces of rocks and layers normally do?

Reading

Reading Comprehension:

Directions: Read the passage and answer the questions.

On January 24, 1988, John Gonzales went on a fishing trip. He left his house and went to the harbor in Sao Paolo, Brazil. He got on a fishing boat. Four other fishermen went on the boat too. The boat left the harbor, and the men began to fish. The first few hours in the ocean were not unusual. Then there was a terrible storm. 2) The storm continued for 20 days. When the storm finally stopped, the men checked their boat. Their fishing nets were gone. The engine and the radio did not work. There was no food, and there was no fresh water. Without their nets, the men could not fish. But they could get out of the boat and catch big turtles. The men did not want to eat raw turtle meat, so they needed a fire for cooking. 3) They broke the boat's wooden cabin and made a fire with pieces of the cabin wood. They needed protection from the sun and rain, so they built a simple roof out of cloth. The roof held rain water and the men could drink rain water from the roof. For the next three months the men ate turtles which they caught and they drank rainwater when it rained. Quite often there was no food and no water, and the men were hungry and thirsty. 4) In May, it did not rain for a long time, and the men did not have any fresh water. They were thin and weak, and they thought they were going to die. They put on their best clothes, laydown, and closed their eyes. After a while, it began to rain. The men stood up and began to drink water from the roof. Then all the men began to cry. Ten days later, on June 15, a Japanese fishing boat found the men who were 4,000 miles away from Brazil.

Dear Hamad,

Thank you for your suggestions. I'm really excited about the British students' visit and I think we'll have a lot of fun.

I'm so happy because you liked the idea about desert camping.

I think going on a day trip to the desert will be a great idea, there are some great tours available which offer camel rides.

Also, I think that we should take the group to Qatar national museum, so that they can learn about the Qatari culture.

Please tell me what you think of these suggestions. If we decide to go on a day trip to the desert, we will have to book in advance.

event in Qatar

One of the most exciting events in Qatar is the sports day. It's on the second Tuesday of February every year. On this day, I run and walk along Doha's beautiful Corniche. Also, I can do lots of activities with my family and friends. I can play football, basketball in Katara. We have breakfast in the open air. How amazing to have fun and celebrate Qatar's Sport Day outdoors. I really like it and look forward to celebrating with that great event.

Digital habits

Digital habits across generations Today's grandparents are joining their grandchildren on social media, but the different generations' online habits couldn't be more different. In the UK the over-55s are joining Facebook in increasing numbers, meaning that they will soon be the site's second biggest user group, with 3.5 million users aged 55–64 and 2.9 million over-65s.

Sheila, aged 59, says, 'I joined to see what my grandchildren are doing, as my daughter posts videos and photos of them. It's a much better way to see what they're doing than waiting for letters and photos in the post. That's how we did it when I was a child, but I think I'm lucky I get to see so much more of their lives than my grandparents did.'

Ironically, Sheila's grandchildren are less likely to use Facebook themselves. Children under 17 in the UK are leaving the site – only 2.2 million users are under 17 – but they're not going far from their smart phones. Chloe, aged 15, even sleeps with her phone. 'It's my alarm clock so I have to,' she says. 'I look at it before I go to sleep and as soon as I wake up.'

Unlike her grandmother's generation, Chloe's age group is spending so much time on their phones at home that they are missing out on spending time with their friends in real life. Sheila, on the other hand, has made contact with old friends from school she hasn't heard from in forty years. 'We use Facebook to arrange to meet all over the country,' she says. 'It's changed my social life completely.'

Teenagers might have their parents to thank for their smart phone and social media addiction as their parents were the early adopters of the smart phone. Peter, 38 and father of two teenagers, reports that he used to be on his phone or laptop constantly. 'I was always connected and I felt like I was always working,' he says. 'How could I tell my kids to get off their phones if I was always in front of a screen myself?' So, in the evenings and at weekends, he takes his SIM card out of his smart phone and puts it into an old-style mobile phone that can only make calls and send text messages. 'I'm not completely cut off from the world in case of emergencies, but the important thing is I'm setting a better example to my kids and spending more quality time with them.'

Is it only a matter of time until the generation above and below Peter catches up with the new trend for a less digital life?

Mid Of Semester 2 / 2023 – 2024

PORTAL TO ENGLISH 8B / Enrichment Exercises

Read the text, and then answer the questions:

1) It is bad to have food stuck between your teeth for long periods of time. This is because food attracts germs, germs produce acid, and acid hurts your teeth and gums. Flossing helps to remove the food that gets stuck between your teeth. This explains why flossing helps to keep your mouth healthy, but some doctors say that flossing can be also good for your heart. It may seem strange that something you do for your teeth can have any effect on your heart.

2) Doctors have come up with a few ideas about how flossing works to keep your heart healthy. One idea is that the germs that hurt your teeth can leave the mouth and travel into your blood. Germs that get into the blood can then attack your heart. Another idea is based on the fact that when there are too many germs in your mouth, the body tries to fight against these germs. For some reason, the way the body fights these mouth germs may end up weakening the heart over time.

3) Not every doctor agrees about these ideas. Some doctors think that the link between good flossing habits and good heart health is only a coincidence. A coincidence is the occurrence of two or more events at one time apparently by mere chance. The incidence of these events is completely random, as they do not admit of any reliable cause and effect relationship between them. For example, every time I wash my car, it rains. This does not mean that when I wash my car, I somehow change the weather. This is only a coincidence. Likewise, some doctors think that people who have bad flossing habits just happen to also have heart problems, and people who have good flossing habits just happen to have healthy hearts.

4) The theory that flossing your teeth helps to keep your heart healthy might not be true. But every doctor agrees that flossing is a great way to keep your teeth healthy. So even if flossing does not help your heart, it is sure to help your teeth. This is enough of a reason for everyone to floss their teeth every day.

1) Which of the following would be the best TITLE for this passage?

- A. Why Doctors Disagree About Flossing
- B. How to Keep Your Teeth Healthy
- C. Flossing Your Way to a Healthy Heart
- D. Flossing By Coincidence

Robots

A robot is a machine. But it is not just any machine. It is a special kind of machine. It is a machine that moves. It follows instructions. The instructions come from a computer. Because it is a machine, it does not make mistakes. And it does not get tired. And it never complains. Unless you tell it to! Robots are all around us. Some robots are used to make things. For example, robots can help make cars. Some robots are used to explore dangerous places. For example, robots can help explore volcanoes. Some robots are used to clean things. These robots can help vacuum your house. Some robots can even recognize words. They can be used to help answer telephone calls. Some robots look like humans. But most robots do not. Most robots just look like machines.

Long time ago, people imagined robots. Over 2,000 years ago, a famous poet imagined robots. The poet's name was Homer. His robots were made of gold. They cleaned things and they made things. But they were not real. They were imaginary. Nobody was able to make a real robot. The first real robot was made in 1961. It was called Unimate. It was used to help make cars. It looked like a giant arm.

In the future, we will have even more robots. They will do things that we can't do. Or they will do things that we don't want to do. Or they will do things that are too dangerous for us. Robots will help us fight fires. They will help us fight wars. They will help us fight sickness. They will help us discover things.
