- 1G ... the news is so miserable; all those stories ... make me feel terrible.
2A I really can't live without it – it's my passion.
3D ... today's generation seems to be more interested in celebrities and their private lives than in important political and social events in the world. ... it's sad that they don't show an interest in the real world around them. Times change I guess.
4F I used to come downstairs in the morning and enjoy reading a newspaper ... I just don't have time for a newspaper anymore, so I tend to go online once I get to work and catch up on the headlines there.
5C ... so it's our responsibility to make sure we know what's going on.

Part 4

- 1B Alvin Toffler first talked about 'Information Overload' back in 1970 in his book ...
2C But we've had access to large amounts of information ever since the 1400s when the printing press was invented, haven't we?
3A Modern technology moves faster and faster all the time, but the human brain that needs to process the information doesn't.
4B It means that these people either delay making decisions or make bad decisions ...
5B We should also remember to be clear when we are dealing with other people as well. A short report with quality information is much better than a long report that includes irrelevant

Mid-Year Listening Test*Part 1

You will hear fourteen short conversations. After each conversation, a question is asked about what was heard. The answer choices are shown as pictures. Choose the picture (A, B or C) which answers the question.

1

- W Hi Josh, I didn't know you were a member of this sports centre.
M Hi Wendy. Yes, I've been playing badminton here for a couple of years now. I don't usually come on a Tuesday, though. I prefer Saturday or Sunday morning, but I'm going to be away this weekend. What are you doing here?
W I've just started squash lessons. I'm not very good; it's much harder than it looks.
M Don't get discouraged; all sports are hard in the beginning. I remember when I first played cricket – I was terrible! You'll get better.
W Well, I can't get any worse!
N Which sport has the woman recently taken up?

2

- W How was your 'haunted house' weekend away?
M It was good, the hotel was in a lovely area and the food was really good! There was even a small gym for visitors to use.
W Yes, but did you see any ghosts, or hear anything strange? I mean that was why you went, wasn't it?
M Well, the room I stayed in is supposed to be haunted by a young girl, but I had the best night's sleep ever!
N What happened to the man at night?

3

- M So what's it like living on your own?
W I'm getting used to it now, thank goodness. Leaving home wasn't easy at first. I felt so lonely and just sat around feeling sorry for myself.
M What changed?
W Well, one day I woke up and said 'That's it. Enough is enough!' Later that day, I joined the local gym and a book club. Since then I've made a few new friends and I'm feeling much happier now. I'm really enjoying the freedom I have.
N How does the woman feel now?

- M OK. Can everybody listen for a minute, please? Don't forget that you all need to be here at 9.30 tomorrow morning. The bus leaves at 10 o'clock sharp, so don't be late.
W But the match doesn't start until 2.30!
M I know that, Jenny, but it's quite a long way and we'll need time to have something to eat and warm up before you play.

5

- W Oh gosh. What's happened to you? Have you broken your arm?
M No, it isn't actually broken. I fell over while I was jogging yesterday. Not very clever, was it?
W Well, accidents happen. I fell down some stairs last year. Do you remember? I broke my leg and hit my head. I had to have five stitches.
M Yes, I do. Fortunately, the doctor says it should be better in a few days.
N What part of his body has the man injured?

- M Mum, will you come to the shops with me later. I've got a party to go to at the weekend and I need your help.
W Yes, of course. Do you want me to help you choose something to wear?
M Er ... no, thanks. I'm going to wear my new jeans and a shirt. I want to get a present for Sue – it's her party. She's going to be 18. I'm doing the music with her brother. It's going to be great!
W Oh, I see. Well I'm sure we'll be able to find something for her.

- N What does the boy want to buy?

7

- W That's an unusual watch, Mike.
M Yes, it is. I bought it for myself a couple of years ago. My grandfather died and left me some money ...
W ... and you spent it on the watch. What a good idea!
M Yes, he used to collect clocks and watches and he had one just like this. I always admired it. Now whenever I look to see what the time is, I think of him.
N What did the man inherit from his grandfather?

8

- W Right, I suggest we split up. I'm going to the 4th floor where the footwear is. I need a new pair of boots. Why don't you go and look for trousers while I do that?
M OK. I think menswear is on the 3rd floor, but don't worry. I'll find it.
W Good. Now what else did we want to buy? Oh yes, a new jacket for Susie – childrenswear. That's here on the 2nd floor, so perhaps we should do that first?

- N Which floor is footwear on?

9

- W So, are you and Jackie coming with us to the cinema tonight?
M Not this time, we saw the film last week with Stella and John.
W Ah, so what have you got planned then – a romantic evening in?
M No such luck! Jackie's going to do the ironing and I get to clean the windows. At least we'll be ordering
