Part B - Read the Passage and Answer the Questions

Wild Animals

Wild animals have special body parts that help them survive in nature.

The penguin has strong flippers and a smooth body. These help the penguin swim very well in cold water. Penguins cannot fly, but they are excellent swimmers. The hippo has a big body and strong legs. These help it walk and move in water. Hippos also have large mouths and strong teeth to eat plants. The wolf has strong legs and sharp teeth. These help the wolf run fast and hunt for food. Wolves also have thick fur to keep warm. The cheetah has long legs and a flexible body. These help it run very fast. The cheetah is the fastest land animal. All animals use their body parts to swim, walk, or run.
