Jolly Phonics Workbook 4

The Jolly Phonics Workbooks teach progressively, with more to learn in each Workbook. Progress can be assessed on the skills checklist below.

Reading

Recognizes the fourth group of sounds - ai, j, oa, ie, ee, or.

pages 2-10, 15

☐

Can sound out a digraph.

Digraphs (such as ai, oa, ie, ee, or) have two letters but one sound. The child should say the digraph sound (such as ai), not the sound of each letter (so not a-i). It can be difficult at first. Give the child some practice with regular words such as rain, pain, wait, nail, paint.

Writing

Holds pencil correctly, between thumb
and first two fingers.

Can write the fourth group of sounds -
ai, j, oa, ie, ee, or.

☐

The child should be able to write the sounds after hearing them, not just by copying them. So check by calling out the sounds. Also try calling out regular words that have these digraphs: goat, boat, coat, float, road, beef, keep, need, peep, pie, die, lie, fort, sort, ford, torn, born.

Able to write digraphs in joined-up writing (cursive).
(Some schools do not use joined-up writing for young children. Check with your child's school to see what their handwriting policy is).

pages 3, 7, 9,
15, 18, 22

Can hear the digraph sound in words.

☐

For example that the sound ai occurs in snail, whale and baby, but not in cat, bath or farm.

Write your name.

ai

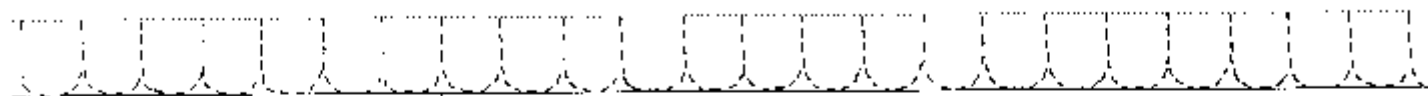

long a

Bee puts her hand behind her ear and says ai.
Snake tells her she should say pardon.

Action: Cup hand over ear and say ai, ai, ai.

Watch out for vowels. They can use their name as well as their sound.

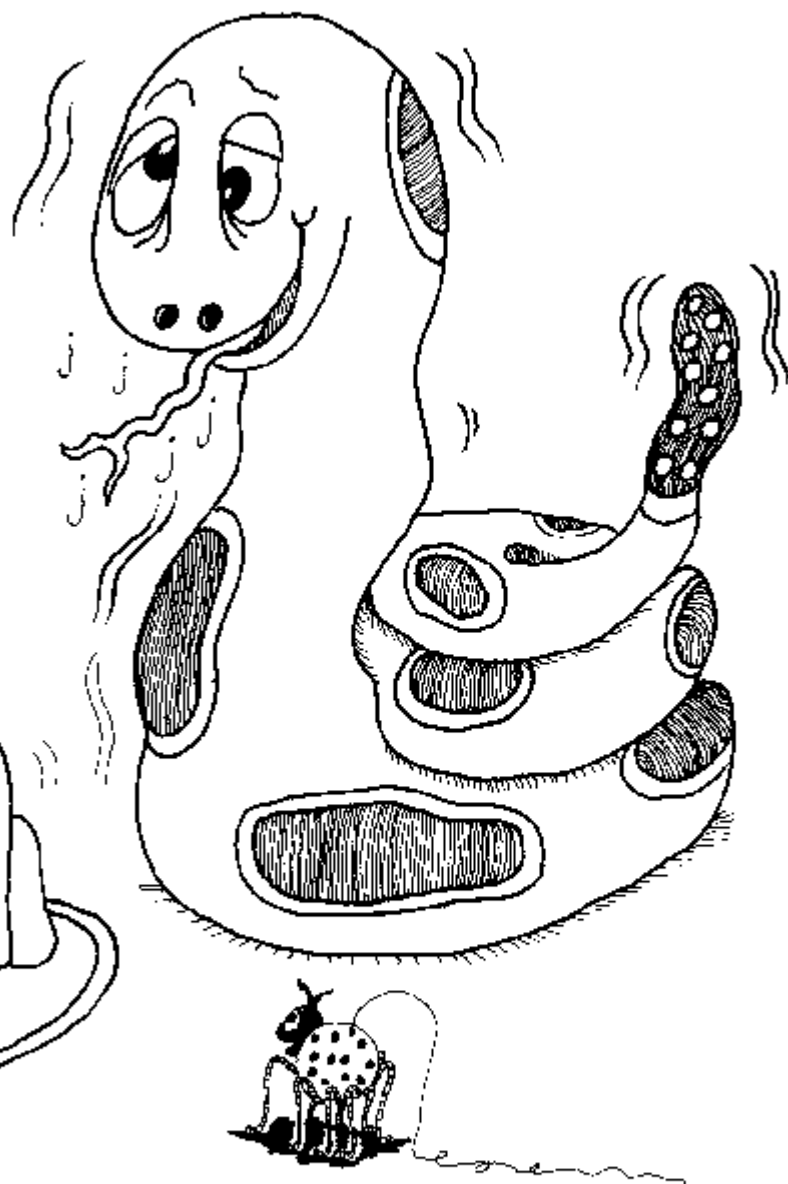

When two vowels go walking
the first does the talking.

(So the spelling ai says the name of the first vowel, A.)

Jj

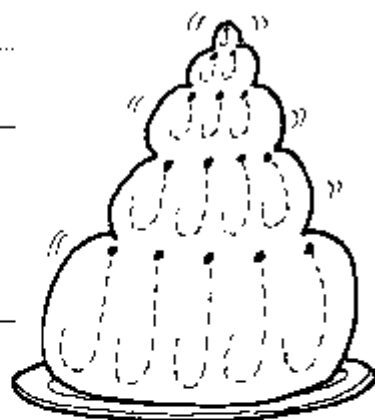

Snake pretends to be wobbling
on a plate going j, j, j.

Action: Pretend to wobble on a plate and say j, j, j.

oa

The oak tree has fallen on the goat.
When Bee sees what has happened,
she says oa!

Action: Bring hand over mouth as if something terrible has happened and say oh!

In joined up writing, take the joining tail to where the next letter begins.

ie

The boy is going to a fancy dress
party as a sailor.
He salutes and
says ie, ie.

Action: Stand to attention and salute saying ie, ie.

Remember...

When two vowels go walking
the first does the talking.

Try reading these words. The dots underneath show the number of sounds.

ee

The donkey is very friendly. When he sees anyone he waggles his ears and says ee or, ee or.

Action: Put hands on head as if ears on a donkey. Move them up and down as you say eeyore, eeyore.

Instructions

Activity

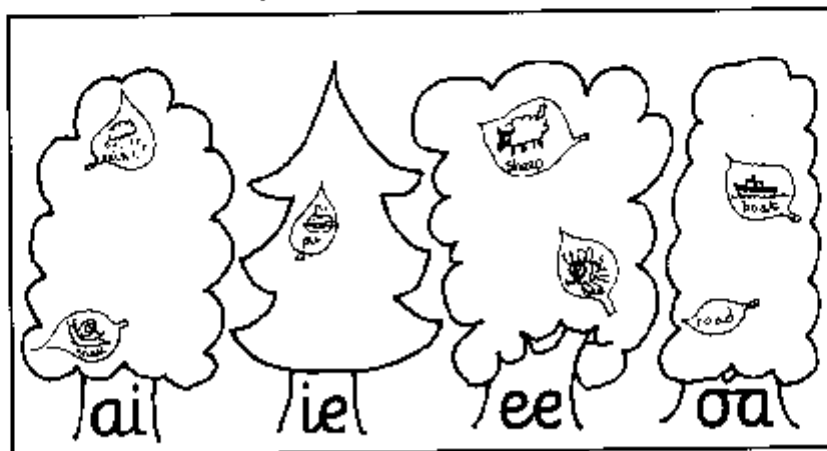

String together some paper raindrops. Write 'ai' words on them (rain, sail, train, brain).

Make your own vowel forest.

Cut out large tree shapes and stick them on a big piece of paper. Find words or pictures with the different vowel sounds and stick them on the correct tree.

Pages 2-10. Sounds.

Learning the sounds is the first step in reading. In this book the digraph sounds (ai as in aim, oa as in oak, etc) are introduced, which are quite different from the short vowel sounds (a as in at, o as in on, etc).

Pages 3, 7, 9, 15. Joined-up (cursive) writing.

The digraphs have been joined as an introduction to joined-up (cursive) writing. Joining will help in remembering the order of the two letters in each digraph.

Pages 3, 9, 11-14. Vowels.

Vowels are introduced as a group of sounds that need to be used with care, especially when there are two of them together.

Pages 3, 9. When two vowels go walking the first does the talking.

The complexities of English spelling are made easier with a few simple rules of which "When two vowels go walking the first does the talking" is one. Examples of this rule are rain, green, leaf, tie, coat, toe and cue. Although this rule has exceptions it is useful at the early stages.

Pages 11-14. Vowel Sound Book.

The child has first been introduced to one way of writing each of the vowels. Now, some alternative ways are shown on these pages, which can be pulled out and made into a Vowel Sound Book. (For example that the ai sound can also be written a-e or ay).

Page 16. Handwriting Practice.

The join to the letters that begin with a 'c' shape (a, d, o, g, q) is one of the most difficult because the pencil must stop and then come back to form the letter.

Page 18. Word Families.

Recognizing word families and rhymes helps with reading and writing.

Page 20. Tricky Words.

Some words have irregular spelling that just has to be learned. The words on this page can be learned by the "LOOK, COVER, WRITE and CHECK" method. Notice that the child is encouraged to write the tricky word all in joined-up (cursive). Spellings are remembered better when words are written in joined-up writing. Only encourage this if your school has an early joined-up (cursive) policy.

The Jolly Phonics Workbooks teach the skills for reading and writing

All the letter sounds of English are introduced (not just the alphabet), with an 'action' for each. Exercises show how to use the letter sounds to read and to spell, along with ways of learning the 'tricky' spellings. The correct way to form each letter is shown and in later Workbooks joined-up (cursive) writing is introduced.
