Read the text and answer the questions:

1-JK Rowling was born in the United Kingdom in 1965. Since she was young, she had always wanted to be a writer. She studied French at university in the UK and after that she had several different jobs. She started the first Harry Potter book in 1990, but she couldn't finish it for a long time. While she was working full time, she was bringing up her small daughter, so there wasn't much time for writing. However, she didn't give up on her great ideas.

2 Eventually, the first Harry Potter book was published in 1996. It sold out very quickly, and soon everyone was interested in JK Rowling and her fabulous creation. She wrote seven books for the Harry Potter series and soon these books became films too.

3 Today, JK Rowling is a successful, world-famous author who has created a character who is loved by children — and adults — all over the world. Her life story teaches us to always remember our interesting, creative ideas because you never know where they might lead!
