Reading

Reading Comprehension:

Directions: Read the passage and answer the questions.

In Italy, people shake hands and smile when they meet. It is a good idea to give a present when you visit someone's house. The best presents are some pink flowers or chocolates. Don't forget to wrap the chocolates in colourful paper! But be careful! Don't use black or purple-coloured paper! They are unlucky colours!

In China, people wrap presents in beautiful paper; yellow or pink are good colours, but red is the best because it's their lucky colour. Always give and receive presents with both hands. But be careful! Don't open the present in front of the person who gave it to you!

In New Zealand, people shake hands when they meet. When you are eating, it isn't polite to put your elbows on the table. And when you visit someone's house, it is polite to give chocolates, flowers or a book about your country as a present.

Put ( True ) or ( False )

Once, a man and his son were going to the market with their donkey. As they walked a man passed them and said, “How silly. You are walking that donkey when you could be riding it instead. What is a donkey for but to ride on?” Hearing this, the man put his boy on the donkey’s back and they went on their way. But soon they passed a group of women, one of whom said: “You should be ashamed of yourself young man. Your father who is older than you should be riding and you should be walking.” Red-faced and embarrassed the boy jumped down to have his father get up on the donkey. They hadn’t gone far when they passed a man and woman, one of whom said to the other: “Doesn’t he know they can both fit on that donkey? His boy doesn’t have to walk this dusty road.”

Arthur and Jack were playing basketball in Jack's back garden. Jack threw the ball and it went over the fence. 'Oh, no!' cried Arthur. 'What now?' 'Don't worry,' said Jack. 'We can go and ask Mr. Dean for the ball.' The boys knocked on Mr. Dean's door, but he wasn't there. 'What's that?' said Arthur. He was looking at a huge glass building. There wasn't DO NOT ENTER sign on the door. 'That's a greenhouse. Mr. Dean is a scientist,' said Jack. Arthur went close to the green house and looked through the window. He saw a dark, scary shape and screamed.

What's wrong, boys?' said Mr. Dean. 'Sorry,' said Jack, 'Our ball went over the fence.' 'No problem,' said Mr. Dean. 'Let me show you something amazing,' he said, and opened the door of the greenhouse. It was very hot in there and it was full of strange plants. 'They are from all over the world,' said Mr Dean 'This one is a pitcher plant. They are the plants that eat insects, right?' said Arthur. 'Yes, that's right,' said Mr. Dean. 'That's the plant that scared me!' said Arthur. 'That's my newest plant,' said Mr Dean. 'It's from the Amazon rainforest and it eats everything!' Arthur and Jack were scared, but Mr. Dean was only joking. They all laughed. Arthur and Jack had a wonderful time with Mr Dean and his plants.
