Meet the Shooting Stars

Hi everyone! I'm Bradley Simmonds, but my friends call me Brad. I'm fifteen years old and I'm a guitar player in a band called the Shooting Stars. Last year we won the Teen Stars competition! I have tae kwon do lessons and I love art. I live with my mum. My dad lives and works in the United States, but I see him every summer. My mum is a dance teacher and that's how I met Lizzie, the singer of the Shooting Stars – she goes to my mum's dance school. My best friend is Ken – the drummer of the Shooting Stars. Last year for my birthday, my friends gave me a surprise – they got me a new guitar. This is my naughty dog, Frodo.

Hello! I'm Ken Ling and I'm fourteen years old. I'm Chinese, but I live in England. I play the drums in the Shooting Stars. Brad, the guitarist, is my best friend. We are all very good friends in the band. We work hard when we write songs and practise, but we really enjoy it. My dog, Roxy, tried to eat Lizzie's microphone last year before a competition. Emily's mum is a vet and she helped Roxy! My dad is a fireman and he helps us when we need to get somewhere quickly. My little brother, Kim, likes to ride in the fire engine too! My mum is a computer programmer and that's why I know a lot about computers.

Hello, I'm Emily Teal. I'm fourteen years old and I really love music. I play the keyboard and write songs for the Shooting Stars. My best friend, Lizzie, sings for the band. In my free time, I play in the girls' football team at school. Sometimes it's difficult and last year I hurt my foot in a match. But I really enjoy it – it helps me forget about school work! My mum is a vet and my dad is a reporter for Greenfield News. He is very busy this year! My sister, Audrey, is seventeen and it is her last year at school. We've got three cats and a parrot called Chicken. Lots of people think it's a strange name, but I like it!

Hi everyone, my name is Elizabeth Evans, but everyone calls me Lizzie. I'm fifteen years old and I sing in the Shooting Stars. I moved to Greenfield last year. My first year at Greenfield School was fantastic! I met my best friend, Emily, there. Also, my band won a competition and we made a CD and a video clip – it was our prize! My parents helped the Shooting Stars a lot. My dad is a clothes designer and he made us great costumes for the competition last year. My mum is an opera singer and she gave me a microphone from her theatre when Roxy tried to eat mine! My sisters, Jenny and Lynn, are twins. They are seventeen and are friends with Emily's sister Audrey.

Black Beauty

(Children's Classics)
By ANNA SEWELL

Reading level: Ages 9-12

Reviews from readers.

Reviewer: Janice Nell, 12, Edinburgh, Scotland

I am reading the book Black Beauty. This book is about the life and adventures of an extraordinary horse called Black Beauty.

I love this book. I think it teaches us important lessons about friendship. Black Beauty's best friend is a horse called Ginger. I feel sorry for her because most of her owners treat her very badly and she is unhappy. Black Beauty also suffers – one of his owners dislikes horses and is cruel to him. But Black Beauty is always kind and gentle to everyone.

Black Beauty has many adventures. The one I like best is when he helps some people in a storm. They want him to cross a bridge but Black Beauty knows something is wrong and he refuses to move.

My favourite character is the cab driver Jerry Barker. He is a good friend to Black Beauty. Jerry never loses his temper and his family takes care of Black Beauty very well.

I believe many children will love this book. The story is exciting and there are lots of interesting characters. But for me it is great because it talks about the importance of friendship.

The bear and the travellers

Two old friends, Fred and Bill, were on a journey together in the mountains. Suddenly, they saw an enormous bear. It gave them a big shock. Fred quickly climbed a tree and then he hid in the branches. Bill didn't have time to get away. He lay on the ground and pretended to be dead.

The bear came up to him and it looked at him. Bill didn't move. The bear touched him and smelt him, but it didn't attack him. It went away from him.

When it was safe, Fred climbed down the tree. 'What did the bear whisper in your ear?' he asked his friend. 'He gave me some good advice,' replied Bill. 'He said this: Never travel with a selfish person like Fred. He left you on your own in an emergency!'

The ant and the dove

One day an ant tried to drink some water from a river, but it fell in. A dove felt sorry for the ant because it was in danger and decided to rescue it. The dove dropped a twig into the river. The ant climbed onto the twig and swam to the river bank. It was glad to be alive and said thank you to the dove for its kindness.

A few days later, the ant saw a man with a gun. He was a hunter and he wanted to shoot the dove. This was the ant's chance to help the dove. When the hunter aimed his gun at the dove, the ant bit his leg and the hunter missed. The tiny ant saved the dove's life and the dove was very grateful.

Schools in the past

Reading

A Read the article. What were teachers like in Victorian schools?

Victorian Schools

In the first part of the nineteenth century, a lot of children from poor families in England didn't attend school. (1) They helped their parents earn money. In 1870, however, a new law said that all children between the ages of five and thirteen must go to school.

Schools in those days weren't much fun. Pupils often used to walk a long way to get to school because transport wasn't very good. The weather was cold and wet in the winter, and poor children didn't have good shoes or warm clothes. Schools didn't always have heating. (2) Pupils were often absent because they were ill.

Lessons used to be very different in those days. Pupils learnt to recite everything like parrots. They studied subjects like Maths and English, and they learnt how to read and write. But they also learnt how to stand, sit and walk properly. (3) Girls learnt how to sew and make clothes, and boys did PE.*

Teachers were very strict and they used to punish pupils a lot. When pupils didn't do their homework, or they weren't obedient or well-behaved, their teachers used to hit them with a cane. Sometimes the teacher told naughty pupils to stand at the front of the class for the whole lesson and to wear a dunce's cap. (4) They also punished pupils when they made mistakes in dictation.

The next time you complain about school, remember that school life was much harder in the past!

* PE means physical education
 dunce means stupid person

First day

1 Reading

A Read the story. Who is Miranda Collins?

Miranda Collins was nervous. She got up, got dressed and looked at herself in the mirror. She was wearing a new skirt. She didn't like it much, but it was too late to change.

In the kitchen, her family was eating breakfast, but Miranda wasn't hungry. She had a glass of orange juice and then she put on her coat. 'Good luck,' her mother said. 'I hope you get on well with everyone.' 'Do you want me to pick you up at four o'clock?' her father asked, but Miranda said, 'No, thanks. I want to walk.'

It was cold outside, but the sun was shining. In the park, the leaves on the trees were red and gold. Autumn was Miranda's favourite time of year and she felt better outside in the fresh air. Lots of children were walking to school. Some of them were talking to their friends. Others were alone, just like Miranda.

When she reached the school gate, Miranda took a deep breath. The playground was full of children. Miranda walked to the main entrance and she entered the school. In the corridor she recognised the caretaker and he waved at her. At half past eight, the bell rang and the children went to their classrooms.

Miranda found the right classroom and went in. All the children stopped talking. This was the moment she hated. She knew that they were all looking at her.

They wanted to find out what she was like. She went to the desk at the front of the classroom, put down her bag and took out her books. Then Miranda looked around the classroom and smiled. 'Good morning, everyone,' she said. 'I'm Miss Collins – your new teacher.'

Dear Mum and Dad,

I'm having a great time at summer camp. I don't know why I didn't want to come. It's brilliant here!

- A The countryside is really beautiful. The camp is next to a big lake and there are lots of high mountains. We're staying in wooden huts and I'm sharing one with two boys, Luke and Ivan. Luckily, we get on really well. Every morning we tidy our hut and then we eat breakfast in the canteen. The activities and lessons start at ten o'clock.

- B There are lots of different activities, but I like horse riding best. The horses are friendly and Mr Giles, our instructor, is really great. He's studying at university to be a vet. A funny thing happened yesterday. When we were riding next to the lake, Luke's horse sneezed and he fell off. He landed in the water and he got very wet! Luckily, he was OK and he laughed about it.

- C I'm also doing a nature course. We have lessons every day, but not normal lessons. Today we went for a long walk in the forest with Miss Lee. She teaches biology. She gave us a talk about different kinds of trees, plants and flowers. We stopped for lunch at about twelve o'clock because we were hungry. While we were eating our sandwiches, a wasp stung Ivan's leg! It was his fault because he was trying to kill the wasp.

Well, that's all for now. Don't forget to feed Timmy for me and remember to change his water every day.

See you next week!

A Read the interview. What is Roger Maverick?

- a a teacher
- b a magician
- c a magician and a teacher

Presenter: Today I've invited a special kind of teacher to the studio, Roger Maverick. Roger, welcome to the programme.

Roger: Thank you, Mike.

Presenter: I've already said that you're a special kind of teacher. What exactly do you teach?

Roger: Magic! I have taught magic tricks to children for two years at the Maverick School of Magic and the course has been very popular. Lots of children in the area have become interested in magic because they want to impress their friends. But magic isn't easy. A magician must be patient because it takes a long time to learn the tricks. Then, in a performance, a magician's reactions must be very quick and he or she mustn't be clumsy. Also, a magician must concentrate very hard. It's a real challenge.

Presenter: How long have you been a magician?

Roger: I have worked as a professional magician since 1995. Now I teach at the school and I also give performances.

Presenter: I know that the children at your school have just given their first public performance too. Was it successful?

Roger: Yes, it was. I was very proud of my pupils. They went on stage and they did some brilliant tricks. The audience was amazed. We've already arranged our next show. It's going to take place at the school on Saturday 22nd September at 7 pm. Tickets are available from the school for only £5 each.

Presenter: Well, I hope our listeners have just written that information in their diaries! Thanks for talking to us, Roger.

- Interviewer: Well, you've got a Scottish accent now! I had no idea you weren't from here originally. Tell me, was it difficult for you to move to a new country?

There are many strange stories about this house. Many people have heard the ghost of its first owner, Sir William Blackfern, in the hall and the cellar at night. Nobody knows what he died of. Some visitors have seen the ghost of Anne Sugden. Others have heard her voice from the chimneys and the roof. Anne was a pretty, young servant at Blackfern House hundreds of years ago. According to local stories, Lady Blackfern murdered Anne because she was jealous of her. She pushed her and she fell out of her bedroom window.

Is the house really haunted? Come and see for yourself!

On this exciting weekend trip, you will have the chance to stay in one of Blackfern House's luxurious bedrooms. The price of the weekend includes accommodation for two nights and breakfast. There will also be a tour of the house by its owner, Sir Harry Blackfern. He will give a talk about the history of his family home and provide more information about its ghosts!

From: Lizzie
Subject: swapping homes
Attachments:

To: Yoko

Dear Yoko,

How are you? What's the weather like in Japan at the moment? Is it still cloudy and rainy? It's freezing and foggy here. I hate the weather in Britain in the winter! But I'm lucky because I'm going on holiday to somewhere much warmer next week. We're travelling to California in the United States for two weeks. We're flying to San Francisco airport and then we're driving the rest of the way.

We aren't staying in a hotel – we're going to swap homes with an American family. We've never met them, but they're a family of five, just like us. They're going to stay in our house and, at the same time, we're going to stay in theirs.

I've seen some photos of their house and it looks lovely. It's in San Francisco and it's got a balcony with a view of the sea. It's got four bedrooms and a bathroom upstairs and a big living room, a kitchen, a dining room and another bathroom downstairs. There's also a huge basement with a TV, a DVD player and a computer. I'm going to spend a lot of time in there! I think we'll have lots of fun. I'll e-mail you to tell you all about it.

I'll stop writing now because dinner's ready. Bye for now.

Write soon.

Useful appliances

Reading

A Read the article and label the paragraphs with the correct appliances.

- fridge-freezer
- washing machine
- vacuum cleaner

Appliances at home

A

You need to wash all your clothes, but you also want to go out tonight. No problem – you put them in a machine and they're clean in an hour. A hundred years ago, however, it took a whole day to do the washing. People used to wash everything by hand – clothes, towels and even sheets. Then they used to put them outdoors on a washing line and some things took a long time to dry. It was a very tiring job. Nowadays, it's much quicker. This appliance can wash clothes very fast and you are free to do something else.

B

A hundred years ago there was only one way to clean the floor. That was to sweep it with a broom. Then someone invented a machine to suck up all the dust and dirt. It could do the job of a broom much faster and you didn't need to have lots of money to buy one. People couldn't believe it. There was one small problem, however. More factories started to make these machines because everybody wanted one, and then the factories produced more dirt and dust!

C

People have known for hundreds of years that food lasts for a long time when you freeze it. In the past, people used to dig holes in the ground, fill them with snow and ice and put their food in them. But this was very tiring. Later on, kitchens had ice boxes and people were able to buy ice to put in them. Then someone invented a very useful machine – it used chemicals to cool the air inside a box and it was able to keep food fresh. Nowadays most homes have got one of these appliances. It can keep food and drinks cold in one part and in the other part it can freeze food and make ice.

B Write the letters.

saving time?
using an idea from the past?

Moving house

Jenny didn't want to move. 'I've lived at this address since I was born and I love this house. The new house is smaller. It's on the other side of town and it hasn't even got a garden!' she complained.

A few days before the move, Jenny's mum came into her bedroom. 'There won't be enough room in the new house for all your old toys and books,' she said. 'Can you sort out the ones which you don't want? I'll give them to the Harvey children.' The Harveys were a very poor family. (1)

Jenny opened her cupboard and looked at her dolls. She didn't play with them anymore, but she didn't want to give them away. Her bookcase was full of books. She felt sad, but she began to pack some dolls and books into a box.

The day of the move arrived. The removal men came and they put the furniture and boxes into a large van. It was time to set off for their new home. 'Can I go and have a look at my bedroom for the last time?' Jenny asked miserably. (2) The room looked very empty without her things in it.

Suddenly, the doorbell rang and Jenny's mum went to answer the door. It was little Rose Harvey and she was holding a bunch of flowers. 'Could you give these to Jenny, please? The books and toys are lovely,' said the little girl. (3) Jenny's mum went upstairs and gave the flowers to Jenny. At that moment, Jenny realised how silly she was. 'I'm really lucky,' she thought.

When they got to the new house she hugged both her parents. (4) 'I think we're going to be really happy here,' she said, and she meant it.

Working in the city

1 Reading

A Read the paragraphs about jobs in the city. Who works indoors only?

Jobs in the city

I have to know the city very well to do this job and I have to make sure that it is a safe place. I don't have to travel around in a police car every day. I usually walk around the streets and check that everything's OK. I often work at night and the streets are usually quiet, except at the weekend. Sometimes I have to arrest criminals.

Nina Stone,
police officer

You have to be a good driver and, of course, you have to like driving to do this job! I have to drive very carefully, especially when the roads are wet. But I hate waiting in traffic jams – it means the bus will be late. I don't have to sell tickets. That's the conductor's job, not mine.

Pete Crawley,
bus driver

I give a lot of parking tickets to car owners every day! I don't have to wait for the owner to come back. I leave the parking tickets on the windscreen of the car and the drivers have to pay the fine. I have to walk for miles every day, but I enjoy working outdoors in the city!

Bob Hadden,
traffic warden

I work in a small park in the city centre. I have to make sure that it looks nice all year. I plant flowers and then I look after them. I have to cut the grass, too. Sometimes I pick up litter and I also clean the leaves out of the fountains. I like my job, but I have to get up early. I have to open the park gates at seven o'clock every morning, and I don't like that at all!

Tania Jones,
gardener

Some people think my job is really boring, but they're wrong. Every day, I have to help members when they borrow and return books, and I have to put books back on the shelves. When someone wants a special book, I have to search for it and sometimes I contact other libraries to find it. I have to be friendly and sociable because I meet lots of different people. But luckily I don't have to help rude people – my boss talks to them!

Lee Gibbs,
librarian

3 Katie went down the steps to the car park. Suddenly, she heard someone behind her. It was a librarian! She ran round a corner into a narrow street, but then she bumped into a post box. Katie dropped her bag and the books fell out onto the pavement. The librarian came up behind her and grabbed a book. 'Is this your book?' he said.

4 Katie went back to the library with the librarian, Mr Taylor. She knew she was in trouble! 'Why did you take those library books?' Mr Taylor asked. 'You mustn't steal things!' Mr Taylor wanted to ring Katie's parents, but Katie asked him not to call them. 'I want to do something to prove that I'm sorry,' she said.

Old cities

Reading

The JORVIK Viking centre

Are you interested in the history of cities? Do you want to know how people lived in the past? Then you will really enjoy a visit to the JORVIK Viking centre in York, England.

Jorvik was the Viking name for the English city of York. It was a busy city and many people lived there. Thirty years ago, archaeologists started to uncover Jorvik and they discovered a lot of amazing facts about the Vikings. Then in 1984, the JORVIK Viking centre opened and it quickly became very popular.

At the centre, visitors discover what life was like a thousand years ago when the Vikings lived there. You can go on a great ride through Viking streets where you can see houses and shops. There are statues of people in the streets and buildings. There is even a fish market and there are places where pigs lived – and it is all with sounds and smells! You will think you have travelled back in time!

Don't miss the chance to meet a few of the people who work at the centre – they are all dressed in Viking clothes, and they are called the Viking residents. They can show you the objects which archaeologists found on the site – bones, pottery, coins, leather goods, tools and lots more! There are also some very interesting exhibitions which give you more details about life in Jorvik. Why not find out about money in Viking times and how the Vikings made coins? Or you can discover how bones give us a lot of information about the way Vikings lived – and died!

The JORVIK Viking centre is a great place to visit. There is more information on their web site – when you have time, visit www.vikingjorvik.com and learn more about York in the past.

Hot and cold places

Reading

A Read the article. Match the photos with the places.

Amazing facts about hot and cold places on Earth!

The Sahara Desert

The Sahara Desert, in North Africa, is the largest and one of the hottest deserts in the world. In the summer, the temperature during the day often reaches 40°C.* The highest temperature ever was 58°C! It rarely rains in the Sahara, but there are storms – sand storms!

The Sahara Desert is a very difficult place for humans to survive in. Only a few plants are able to grow in the dry climate. But there are many oases. An oasis is a place where plants and trees can grow because there is water. There are about 90 large oases in the Sahara, where people have built villages. Some animals are able to live in the desert too. The most famous desert animals are, of course, camels. They can survive for many days without food or water.

Antarctica

Antarctica is a continent which is under almost 2 km of ice. The South Pole is in Antarctica and is the most southern place on Earth. It is always extremely cold – in the winter, the temperature falls to -80°C! People have never lived there permanently because it is too cold. There are some scientists, but they only stay for a few months.

In Antarctica, animals and plants can't survive easily on the land, but the sea is full of creatures. Many different kinds of penguins and seals live there all year. They spend most of their lives swimming and diving in the freezing Antarctic water. The sea provides lots of food for them because it is full of fish and sea life. The largest seals in the world live in Antarctica. They're called elephant seals and they eat squid.

LESSON 22

In the garden

Reading

A Read the fact sheet. What is the best title for it?

- 1 Garden birds
- 2 Attract wildlife to your garden
- 3 Your garden in the winter

Plants

Both birds and small animals visit gardens to find shelter and to eat. Trees are ideal places for birds to build their nests, and bushes provide food like seeds and berries. Insects come to feed on flowers. (1) You don't have to keep your garden tidy – all birds and animals like wild, untidy places.

Extra food

Because it is much more difficult for all animals to find food in the winter, you can provide things for them to eat. (2) You can hang the net from a tree or a bird table. However, it isn't necessary to buy food – birds and animals like foxes also eat things like lettuce, potatoes or toast which are left over from a meal.

Ponds

A pond is a great idea for your garden. Ponds attract different kinds of wildlife like insects, birds, frogs and foxes. (3) Don't forget to keep your pond clean – neither dead leaves nor pieces of rubbish are attractive and you must remove them regularly.

Nest boxes

Some birds love making their nests in nest boxes. You must put them outside in early spring. Always put them in shady places where the birds can avoid the heat. When you have two nest boxes, don't put them too close together – either one or the other will remain empty because birds like having their own space. (4) None of the birds in your garden will use nest boxes which cats can reach!

B Complete the fact sheet with the sentences below.

- a They also provide water for these animals to drink.

Edinburgh Butterfly and Insect World is one of Scotland's favourite tourist and educational attractions.

Come to Edinburgh Butterfly and Insect World and walk through the wonderful world of an exotic rainforest. Here you can watch and admire hundreds of spectacular and colourful butterflies from all over the world. You can also see the hard-working leaf-cutting ants, hold weird insects and look at (but not hold!) our deadly scorpions!

We've got lots of live insects for you to see – there are really too many to count! Come and see for yourself. You'll be amazed at the ants which march along a rope above your head. They pick up pieces of leaf and then march back along the rope to their nest. You'll love the insects which you can handle. Why not pick up a stick insect? And if that isn't enough excitement – well, you can hold a tarantula too!

A popular exhibition is the bee display, where you can find out about the life of this important insect. Another interesting exhibition is the caterpillar area, where you can learn about the life cycle of butterflies and moths.

Dear Dad,

- A I'm sorry I haven't written to you for ages, but I've been really busy with the band. However, last weekend we had a break and we went to stay on a farm! I had expected it to be really boring, but we had a great time! It was a really cool farm, with a traditional farmhouse and a farmyard full of noisy chickens. The farmer and his wife, Mr and Mrs Hicks, are friends of Emily's parents. They're really nice.
- B On Saturday morning, Mrs Hicks woke us up at six o'clock! That was a bit of a shock! After we'd had breakfast, we helped Mrs Hicks. First Emily collected the eggs which the chickens had laid. Then we went into the barn where Lizzie fed the piglets and lambs, and Ken milked the cows and gave the bull some water. Ken didn't like one of the cows very much because it kicked him while he was milking it! Ow!
- C The best part of the day was when I drove Farmer Hicks' tractor back to the farmyard. He had ploughed the fields because he wants to sow seeds later on. For a while I thought that I'd like to be a farmer instead of a musician. But then I saw that there was mud all over my new jeans and I changed my mind!
- D After we had worked all day, I helped Mrs Hicks cook our meal. There was roast beef and potatoes first, and then apple pie for dessert. By the time we had finished the meal, we were all really tired, so we went to bed at eight o'clock! It was a great day. Well, I've got lots of homework as usual, so I must go. Write soon and tell me your news!

Last Saturday morning, the sun was shining, so we decided to go to the beach. We got up early and Dad made a picnic. Then Mum drove us to the beach.

After we had found a place on the beach, I went for a swim. My little brother didn't want to go in the water because there were too many big waves! While I was swimming, it suddenly started to rain. We ran and found shelter under a big tree. We sat down and had our picnic. After the rain had stopped, my brother and I built an enormous sandcastle.

We stayed at the beach until five o'clock, then we went home. We were tired, but happy!

B Now write a story in your notebook about a day out which you enjoyed. Give your story a title and remember to use the Past Simple, the Past Continuous and the Past Perfect Simple.

Television

Reading

A Read the opinions and find out what these people say about TV. Who do you agree with?

What do you think of TV, James?

Television is a waste of time, isn't it? There are many more interesting things to do. When viewers watch too much TV, they become lazy and unfit. They sit on the sofa all the time and they don't even get up to change channels, do they? They use the remote control!

James, aged 58, author

Do you watch too much TV, Paul?

I admit that I'm a TV addict! I love TV and I watch it for at least four hours a day. I've got a TV in my bedroom, so I often turn it on before I go to sleep. My parents get annoyed with me! Dad says he's going to ban TV from the house!

Paul, aged 18, student

Why do you watch TV, Ethel?

When people live on their own, TV keeps them company, doesn't it? I learn a lot from TV. The news tells me about what's happening in the world. I also watch quiz shows because they help me think. At my age, that is very important, isn't it?

Ethel, aged 74, pensioner

Do your parents let you watch a lot of TV, Marianne?

Adults tell children that TV's bad for them, but they watch it all the time too, don't they? My mum watches all her favourite TV shows, but she complains when I watch my favourite programme! It isn't right for parents to tell their children not to watch TV when they watch it too.

Marianne, aged 15, pupil

Why don't you watch TV, Jake?

My TV's broken at the moment. For the first time in my life, I can't watch TV! At first I hated missing my favourite series, but now I don't want my TV! I used to stare at the screen every evening. It wasn't good for my health or my social life. It is better to take some exercise or go out with your friends, isn't it?

Jake, aged 24, nurse

Joining clubs

A Read Colin's e-mail. When will he arrive in Manchester?

From: Colin
Subject: Scouts
To: Nancy

Dear Nancy,

Hi! How are you? Thanks for your last e-mail. You shouldn't worry about your exam results – you always do well! And there's no reason to be bored in the summer holidays – you should find an interesting pastime or join a youth club!

Why don't you join the Scouts? I joined last year and I think it's great! It's for young people – girls and boys – up to the age of 25. There are lots of interesting things to do and events to take part in. We get badges for activities and challenges and we help lots of different people. We sew our badges on our uniforms. We often go on camping holidays and adventure weekends. In 2007 we'll have a lot of fun because we'll celebrate a special anniversary – 100 years of the Scouts!

I've been very busy with the Scouts this week. I've spent a lot of time at the local swimming pool because I want to get my Swimming Badge. On Thursday, I volunteered to help out at a centre in my neighbourhood for elderly people with special needs. I went there with my grandpa – he's in a wheelchair. On Friday evening, I watched a video about how to prevent fires at home. It was very useful because I want to get my Fire Safety Activity Badge soon. As we say in the Scouts, you should always be prepared for everything!

I've booked my ticket to go to Manchester in July. It'll be great to see you. I'll be there at 8.30 pm on the 25th. Should I call you from the station when I arrive, or will you already be there?

Well, I have to stop writing now because it's late! E-mail me soon!

Take care,

Colin

Thanks for your e-mail. I'm sorry that you feel bored at the moment, but I've got an idea. I think you should take up a sport.

Why don't you play tennis? I started playing tennis a few months ago. Now I play every Monday and Thursday with my friend, Craig. I can keep fit and it's fun too. I think you might like it.

You should also do a hobby at home. What about painting? My sister paints and she really enjoys it. How about searching on the Internet? I'm sure you can find out lots of information about painting there.

Well, I hope my advice is helpful. I have to go now because I've got lots of homework. Send me an e-mail soon!

Bye for now!

Steve

PS Don't forget it's Joe's birthday party on Saturday! See you there!

- B Now write an e-mail in your notebook giving advice to a friend who wants to take up a new hobby. Remember to use expressions which give advice.

Brad: I can't think of anything!
Lizzie: Neither can I.
Mrs Evans: Lizzie, be positive. Both your father and I can give out some leaflets outside the park.

Lizzie: I think we should play a few songs. People might come to the concert when they hear the music.

Emily: Wait! I can't believe I didn't think of it before!

LESSON 31

How to be healthy

Reading

A Read the fact sheet. Which tips give advice about what we eat and drink?

Health Tips for Teenagers

Skin

If you take care of your skin now, you will be grateful in the future. The sun's rays damage the skin, so always protect it. (1) If you've got sensitive skin, you'll need to use sunblock so your skin doesn't burn. It's also important to keep your skin clean. Spots and pimples are often a problem for teenagers, so wash your face well twice a day. If you don't neglect your skin now, it will still look good when you're an adult.

Eyes

Be very careful with your eyes, because you can easily damage them. Your eyes will feel sore if you watch TV or use a computer for hours. It's a good idea to look away from the screen every few minutes and blink often. Most people blink about 15 times a minute, but you should blink more when you're in front of a screen. (3)

Body

A balanced diet and exercise are the two most important things your body needs. You will be unwell if you don't eat good food and take regular exercise. (4)

To stay healthy, do your favourite sport twice a week, or walk to school instead of going by car. Also, if you eat more fruit and vegetables, you'll feel better and you'll have a lot more energy. If you look after your body, your immune system will improve and your body will then look after you!

Teeth

Everyone knows that the sugar in chocolate and sweets is bad for our teeth, but most of us eat them anyway! We also drink fizzy drinks, and these contain chemicals which destroy our teeth too. If you brush your teeth after every snack and meal, you won't have to rush to the dentist with toothache! (2) Dentists recommend a new one every three months. If you look after your teeth now, you won't suffer as you grow older.

B Complete the fact sheet with the sentences below.

- a You might put on weight too.
- b You should also change your toothbrush regularly.
- c Always use suntan lotion when you sunbathe.
- d This will give your eyes a rest and stop them from becoming very dry.

3 Grammar

First Conditional

We use the first conditional to describe something which is or isn't likely to happen in the present or in the future. We form the first conditional with if and the Present Simple (if clause) and the Future Simple (result clause).

If I take some exercise, I'll feel better.

If I don't eat good food, I won't be strong and healthy.

Will my skin burn if I don't use suntan lotion?

Note

When the if clause is before the result clause, we use a comma.

If I eat a lot of sweets, I will put on weight.

When the if clause is after the result clause, we don't use a comma.

I will put on weight if I eat a lot of sweets.

LESSON 32

Sickness and health

Reading

A Read the interview with Alistair Stennet. How many places has Alistair visited in his life?

Not many people live to be 100 years old, but Alistair Stennet is 105! We talked to him at his home on a tiny Scottish island.

Interviewer: Mr Stennet, you're 105 years old! How do you feel?

Alistair: Fine! I haven't got anything serious to complain about. My back and my knees hurt sometimes, and my wrists and elbows get stiff when the weather changes, but I've never had a headache in my life. I never get a temperature, stomach ache or earache. I'm very lucky – illness has never been a problem for me.

Interviewer: That's amazing! What's your secret for long life?

Alistair: Well, I've always eaten good food and I grow all my own vegetables. If I were young now, it would be difficult to eat healthily. Everyone eats fast food now, don't they?

Interviewer: Well, a lot of people do, yes! Have you got any bad habits?

Alistair: I drink two cups of coffee a day. I used to smoke, but I gave it up when I was forty. I had a cough, and every time I smoked a cigarette it got worse and my chest hurt.

Interviewer: Have you lived on this island all your life?

Alistair: Yes, I was born here and I grew up here. I only left once, when I went to Glasgow for a week.

Interviewer: If you lived in a city, how would you feel?

Alistair: I wouldn't be very happy if I lived in a city. Big cities are noisy and polluted. I think life on an island is much better for my health.

Interviewer: I'm sure you're right! Thank you for talking to me, Mr Stennet.

Alistair: You're welcome.

B Write yes or no.

- 1 Has Alistair got a serious illness?
- 2 Has Alistair ever had a headache?
- 3 Does Alistair smoke?
- 4 Was Alistair born on the island?
- 5 Does Alistair like cities?

Vocabulary

- My elbow / chest hurts when I cough.
- My grandma grew / lived to be 95 years old.
- I can't hold a tennis racket because my wrist / knee is sore.

B Match the stickers with the words.

- | | |
|------------|----------------|
| 1 headache | 4 stomach ache |
| 2 earache | 5 temperature |
| 3 cough | 6 backache |

Grammar

Second Conditional

We use the second conditional to

- talk about something which is impossible in the present or in the future.
- talk about something which is possible in the present or in the future, but is unlikely to happen.
- give advice.

We form the second conditional with if and the Past Simple (if clause), and would ('d) or would not (wouldn't) and the infinitive (result clause).

If grandpa lived near us, we would visit him every day.

If I were you, I wouldn't smoke cigarettes.

Would you be happy if you were very old?

Star Words

backache chest cough earache elbow habit headache knee temperature wrist

Note

We can use were instead of was in the first and third person singular.

If I were you, I'd wash my face.

Mum would give you some medicine for your stomach if she were here.

When the if clause is before the result clause, we use a comma.

If I were you, I'd go to the doctor.

When the if clause is after the result clause, we don't use a comma.

I'd go to the doctor if I were you.

A Look back at the interview and underline the examples of the second conditional. How many are there?

B Complete the sentences using the second conditional.

- If I (be) a younger man, I (not have) backache.

Reading

A Read the letter from Marcus and tick (✓) the things which he writes about.

- ☐ burns
- ☐ black eye
- ☐ broken arm
- ☐ headache
- ☐ stomach ache
- ☐ cough
- ☐ broken leg

Dear Brad,

Well, as you know from Mum, I'm in hospital with a broken leg! I haven't got my computer, so I can't send you an e-mail. That's why I'm writing you a letter instead.

You won't believe what happened! I was walking across the playground towards the canteen steps, when a ball hit me on the head! I felt dizzy and before I could grab anything, I fell down the steps. I couldn't stand up because my leg was really hurting. The head teacher called an ambulance and when it arrived two men put me on a stretcher and into the ambulance. Then they brought me here.

I had to have an operation because I've broken my leg in three places. I can't leave hospital until next week. When I go home, I'll have to use crutches because I won't be able to walk with my leg in plaster! I hope I don't have to wear the plaster for very long, because the skin on my leg is really itchy.

The other guys here are really friendly. One of them is called Jack. He's got burns on his hands — he burnt them when a frying pan caught fire in his kitchen. He's an electronic game addict, but he can't play with bandages on his hands! The boy in the bed next to mine, Fred, was hurt when his dad had a car accident. He's got a black eye, three broken ribs and a broken arm. Actually, you might know him because he lives in the same street as you.

Mum said you might come to see me at the weekend.

She's going to give you this letter.

My ward is easy to find. After you walk through the main entrance, turn left and go along the corridor to the end.

See you soon,

Marcus

LESSON 35

Look after yourself

Reading

A Read the article. Which remedies can you use overnight?

Unusual Remedies!

How about cures which don't use pills or ointment from the chemist's? Try out these natural remedies.

A Sunburn

A good way to help bad sunburn to heal is to use tea. You can treat yourself with this remedy quickly and easily. Make some tea, put it in a bowl and add ice to cool it down. Put a small towel into the bowl and leave it until it has soaked up all the tea. Then carefully cover the sunburn with the towel and leave it there for an hour. Your skin will begin to heal and no longer be sore and red.

B Head Lice

You can kill lice with mayonnaise or olive oil! Cover your hair with mayonnaise and put on a shower cap so you don't drip it all over yourself. After a short while, remove the shower cap and wash your hair with shampoo. However, when you want to leave something in your hair overnight, use olive oil – mayonnaise goes off and smells! The lice can't breathe through mayonnaise or olive oil. They suffocate and die – and your scalp isn't itchy any more!

C Hiccups

Here's a problem which bothers everyone but nobody seems to know a cure. Some people think that you can stop hiccups when you take a straw and tickle the back of your throat. But this doesn't work for everybody! You can also try one of these more traditional remedies:

- shout or sing as loud as you can!
- drink a glass of water upside down!
- ask someone to give you a fright!

At least you will enjoy yourself!

D Pimples

To get rid of a new pimple fast, cover it with toothpaste before you go to bed! White toothpaste is what you need, not gel. In the morning, wash your face with soap and look at the pimple – it will be smaller. If you squeeze the pimple, this remedy won't work very successfully, so be careful!

B Write the letters.

Which paragraph mentions

a problem which hasn't got a cure?

(1)

more than one cure for a problem?

(2)

(3)

how to make a remedy?

(4)

a remedy which doesn't stay fresh for long?

LESSON 36

Going on holiday

Reading

A Read the article. Who doesn't need to send postcards?

Holidays

What possession do you always take with you when you go on holiday? We asked five people and this is what they said.

My family and I often go on sailing holidays. I love sailing, because it gives me the chance to use my binoculars. With binoculars, you can see details of places and things which are far away and you can find out more about where you are. Once, I was amazed to see a dolphin!

Freddie, aged 10

I always take my laptop with me when I go on holiday. I don't mind working on trains or planes. It makes the journey pass more quickly. I also watch DVDs and play games on my laptop when I want to relax.

Max, aged 27

I always pack my hairdryer when I go away. I can't stand having wet hair and some hotels haven't got hairdryers. I love swimming every day when I'm on holiday and I always wash my hair afterwards. My hair takes ages to dry naturally, but with my hairdryer it only takes a few minutes.

Frances, aged 22

When I go to a foreign country, I always take a guidebook with me. Guidebooks contain maps and important information about a place. They also include useful words and phrases in the language which people speak there. These are really helpful when no one speaks your language and you want to talk to someone.

Julia, aged 34

I never forget my mobile phone when I go on holiday. I enjoy sending text messages – that's how I keep in touch with my friends. I always promise to send them photos instead of postcards, so they can see where I am. I also like playing games. It's expensive, but luckily I can afford it.

Ella, aged 19

Hi, Kathy,

How was your holiday? I hope it was better than ours! Everything went wrong!

The main problem was the hotel. It was called The Grotto and it was described in the brochure as a five-star hotel. But it was awful! We weren't welcomed politely by the receptionist. My parents' room was dark and my single room was tiny. The towels looked filthy and the sheets on the beds weren't changed. In fact our rooms weren't cleaned once during our stay because the maid was off sick! We froze too because the heating wasn't working. Nearly all the hotel guests caught colds! When my dad made a complaint to the receptionist, she said, 'Put on a thick jumper!' All that for £150 per night!

The service in the restaurant was terrible too. Breakfast was served by a really rude waiter. One day, he took our order 20 minutes after we had sat down, and then he didn't apologise when he spilt coffee all over my mum! The food tasted all right, however. That was the only thing which we liked!

Another problem was the weather – it rained every day of our holiday! We played board games in the hotel most of the time because we couldn't go to the beach. Even our day trips were called off because there was a problem with the coach. We felt really annoyed and disappointed.

Anyway, Dad asked the hotel manager for a refund because we weren't satisfied with the poor service. He gave Dad a complaint form to fill in, but we didn't get any money back. One thing's certain – we aren't going to book a holiday at The Grotto ever again!

E-mail me soon and tell me about your holiday!

Love,
Gavin

LESSON 39

The best way to travel

Reading

A Read the interview with Dean Lambert. What does he especially like about his job?

Dean Lambert is 24 years old and he's a flight attendant. We asked him about his job.

What do flight attendants do?

We look after passengers from the moment they get on the plane. We check their boarding passes, show them to their seats and make sure they feel comfortable. Before we take off, we help them with their seat belts and check that their luggage is stored safely. (1) During the flight, we serve meals and we sell duty-free goods. We also communicate with the pilots in the cockpit.

Are any special qualities or qualifications needed?

The most important thing is to be friendly and polite. You should also be calm and sensible, especially in emergencies. The youngest age for a flight attendant is 19. (2) You also need good exam results from school and you must be able to speak a foreign language.

Do you ever feel nervous about flying?

No, not at all. (3) Some of them are terrified when the plane takes off and others are more frightened when it lands. I have to be sympathetic and understanding.

What's the best thing about your job?

I really enjoy meeting the passengers. People are often more interesting when they have seen a lot of the world. Holidaymakers love talking about their new experiences and I like listening to them!

What's the worst thing about your job?

Jet lag is the worst problem. On a long flight, we cross many time zones. (4) Sometimes I can't tell if it is day or night. I usually go straight to the hotel and try to sleep before the next flight. It isn't the easiest job in the world, but I still love being a flight attendant!

B Complete the interview with the sentences below.

- a But some passengers get very nervous.
- b We then explain what to do in an emergency.

Summer holiday fun!

Reading

A Read Emily's tips about things to do in the summer holidays. What can you make when it's hot?

- 1 chocolate milkshakes
- 2 iced drinks

Are all your friends going away, but you're spending the summer holidays at home? Don't worry – you can enjoy yourself without going on holiday, and without your friends! Here are some ideas to keep you busy this summer!

- 1 Learn to rollerblade! Go slowly at first, so you don't fall over too much. Practise hard and don't give up. By the end of the day, you'll have some bruises, but you'll be proud of your rollerblading!
- 2 Have a picnic in the park. Take some tasty things with you – my favourites are sausage rolls and chocolate milkshakes. You'll also need a book or comic to read and a blanket to sit on. Look carefully for a good spot, so you aren't surrounded by insects!
- 3 Do you live by the seaside? Then why not go to the beach and collect some pebbles and shells? Paint them beautifully and then make unusual jewellery and ornaments. Large pebbles are great paperweights. Why not sell some jewellery for extra pocket money?
- 4 Make your own iced drinks and stay cool in the heat. All you need is ice, sugar and fruit. Mix them quickly in a blender and serve your drink in tall glasses. My favourite flavour is strawberry. Try it out!
- 5 Don't lie lazily in bed every morning because you don't have to go to school. Get up one day when it's still dark and watch the sunrise. It's an experience which you won't forget!

So don't feel bored! There are lots of exciting ways to spend your time. Have a great summer!

B Answer the questions. Write your answers in your notebook.

- 1 Why will you have bruises after you go rollerblading?

Scene 1

At the airport

The Shooting Stars are at the airport. They are waiting for Brad's dad to arrive. He is coming to England for two weeks to spend some time with his son. Brad has got his guitar with him.

Lizzie: This is really exciting, Brad! I can't wait to meet your dad! When was the last time he was in England?

Brad: Almost two years ago!

Emily: Wow! He will be excited to see you, Brad!

Brad: I hope he will be! I'm looking forward to seeing him!

Ken: Has he got an American accent?

Brad: No, he hasn't. But he's only lived there for three years. Anyway, he's settled in really well since he moved there.

Brad looks up at the flight arrivals board.

Brad: Look, it's ten to eight and Dad's plane will be here at eight o'clock. That's only ten minutes.

Ken: Wait a minute! Look! It says 'delayed' next to it.

Brad: Oh no!

Lizzie: We've already been here for an hour!

Emily: Yes, and my feet hurt! Let's sit down somewhere.

Lizzie: Shh! Listen!

Announcer: Excuse me, ladies and gentlemen. Flight number AA157 from New York is delayed until 9 am. Thank you.

Emily: Oh no, I can't wait here in this crowded place!

Brad looks unhappy. Lizzie whispers in Emily's ear.

Lizzie: Don't complain, Emily. I think Brad is a bit upset. I feel sorry for him.

Emily: You're right. I'm being selfish.

Ken: Well, what shall we do now?

Brad: I don't know.

Lizzie: I've got an idea! Brad, you brought your guitar. Let's find a place to sit down and play a few songs! Then one hour won't seem long.

Ken: Great idea! Come on, let's go!

Scene 2

In the airport café

The Shooting Stars are sitting in the airport café, singing a song. A crowd is watching them. They look very interested. They clap when the Shooting Stars finish the song.

- Crowd: Hurray! Well done!
- Woman: That was marvellous! I have never heard children play music like that before!
- Man: Yes, you played very well! That was extraordinary!
- Teenager: Have you got a CD?
- Lizzie: Yes, we have.
- Teenager: Where can I buy one?
- Ken: Oh, it isn't in the shops. We won the Teen Stars competition last year and we made a CD and a video clip.
- Emily: But we can give you a CD. I think I've got one in my bag!

Emily looks in her bag, takes out a CD and gives it to the teenager.

- Emily: Here you are.
- Teenager: Oh, that's very generous, thank you! I really admire you. I'd like to play in a band!
- Man: You can. I'll buy you a guitar in New York!
- Teenager: Dad, you said 'You must go to college and be sensible!'
- Woman: He didn't mean that you mustn't play music. He only wants you to get a good education!
- Man: That's right.
- Teenager: Oh Dad, I'm really glad! That's great!

Suddenly, the teenager sees a tall man standing behind Brad. The man is smiling.

- Teenager: They're a great band. Did you like their songs too?

- Mr Simmonds: Yes, I did. My son Brad is a great guitarist.

The Shooting Stars jump out of their seats. Brad's guitar almost falls over. Brad gives Mr Simmonds a big hug.

- Ken: Mr Simmonds?
- Brad: Dad! I'm really happy to see you!
- Mr Simmonds: Me too! I'm very proud of you, son! I'm sure you will be a very successful musician one day!
- Brad: What did you think of our songs, Dad?
- Mr Simmonds: They're fantastic! I listened to you for about 15 minutes! I was sitting over there!

Everyone laughs.

- Mr Simmonds: Shall we go out for breakfast, everyone?
- Emily: Yes, that's a great idea! Let's go!

The Shooting Stars say goodbye to the family in the café.

- Teenager: Bye! It was nice to meet you! Thanks for the CD!
- Lizzie & Ken: Bye! Have a nice time in New York!

Mr Simmonds whispers in Brad's ear.

- Mr Simmonds: I am very impressed, Brad.
- Brad: Thanks, Dad.

Scene 1

Backstage at the concert hall

Mrs Simmonds is going to give a special dance performance for charity. The Shooting Stars arrive backstage where Mrs Simmonds is getting ready. Emily and Lizzie go in first while Brad and Ken go to get milkshakes.

- Lizzie: Wow! Look at this place! You've got everything you need here, Mrs Simmonds! Look, Emily.
- Emily: Yes, there are lots of clothes and you've got a fridge and a radio too! It looks like a little house!
- Mrs Simmonds: We're lucky. The director here treats us very well. He has taken care of everything. He's very hard-working.
- Emily: I can see he is. This place is great!

Everyone laughs. Brad and Ken walk in with their milkshakes. The stage manager follows them in.

- Mrs Simmonds: Well, you're right Emily. But he also has a lot of help from the cleaners and the caretaker. The stage managers work really hard too.

Stage manager: Yes, we do. We sort out all the costumes and make sure everything is OK. Anyway, you start in thirty minutes, Anne.

Mrs Simmonds: OK. Thank you.

Brad is jumping around pretending to be a dancer. Everyone is staring at the milkshake in his hand, except Ken, who is laughing.

- Lizzie: Brad, be careful. You'll drop it!
- Chorus: Brad, be careful. Stop it!
- Ken: It'll be OK. I think he's funny.
- Mrs Simmonds: Brad, listen to me. You'll bump into something and drop it!

Emily tries to grab the milkshake from Brad's hand and they both fall over. Brad drops the milkshake all over his mum's dress. The director walks in.

- All: Oh no!
- Chorus: Oh no! Look at this mess! Now Brad's in trouble. Oh yes!
- Brad: Oh, Mum, I'm sorry!
- Mrs Simmonds: How am I going to perform? There's milkshake all over my dress!
- Lizzie: You are really clumsy sometimes, Brad!

Brad: Mum, I'm really sorry. Can you put on another dress?

Mrs Simmonds: No, I can't put on another dress! My other dress is at home!

Director: Brad, run home and get your mum's other dress. You'll get back in half an hour, and everything will be all right.

Mrs Simmonds: It's in my bedroom, on the chair next to the bookcase.

Brad: OK. Ken, can you come with me?

Ken: OK. Let's go.

Brad and Ken run to Brad's house to get Mrs Simmonds' dress.

Scene 2

In Mrs Simmonds' bedroom

Brad: Ken, I can't find it anywhere! It isn't here!

Ken: Well, think carefully. Where else can it be?

Brad: I'm really worried – we won't get back in time!

Ken: Maybe it's downstairs.

Brad: Actually, maybe it's hanging out to dry in the garden! Wait, I'll go and see.

Ken waits in Mrs Simmonds' bedroom while Brad looks for the dress. When Brad returns he's holding something behind his back.

Ken: Where were you?

Brad: Well, I went into the kitchen and I found Mum's dress in the washing machine.

Brad shows Ken the dress.

Brad: It's still wet! What am I going to do now?

Ken: Can I make a silly suggestion?

Brad: What?

Ken: Put it on.

Brad: What!

Ken: Look at the temperature. It's really hot today. The dress will dry on the way back. You can put it on over your own clothes.

Brad: Why don't you wear it? I'll look like an idiot!

Ken: No! You're the one who dropped your milkshake. This will be your punishment!

Chorus: Brad was bad and he must pay. He'll wear mum's dress and save her day.

Brad puts on the dress and Ken starts laughing.

Scene 3

Backstage at the concert hall

Brad and Ken run in. Brad is wearing the dress. Everyone laughs at Brad.

Lizzie: Why are you wearing your mum's dress, Brad?

Brad: I'll explain later. Mum, here's your dress!

Brad takes off the dress and gives it to his mum.

Emily: Ha! Ha! You can wear that when we have our next concert, Brad! It looked great on you! Ha! Ha!

Mrs Simmonds: Thanks, Brad, I'm very grateful.

Chorus: Now Mum's happy, everything's all right.
The dress is dry, Mum can dance tonight.

Scene 1

At the bus stop

The Shooting Stars are sitting on a bench at the bus stop. They are waiting for the bus to school. An old man with a walking stick sits down next to them.

- Old man: Hello, kids. Why aren't you at school?
Lizzie: We're going now. We're waiting for the bus.
Old man: I remember when I was a schoolboy. Those days are in the past now, but I remember them like yesterday!
Ken: Did you go to school here in Greenfield?

The old man doesn't answer, but starts singing to himself. The Shooting Stars look at each other, very confused.

- Lizzie: Are you OK, sir?
Woman: I think he's OK.
Man: Don't worry, he comes here every day and looks at the sky like that.
Woman: Yes, and he always talks about when he played football at school and what it was like on the playing field.
Man: He gets off the bus at the library. I don't know what he does there all day.

Suddenly Joel goes past very quickly on a skateboard and grabs the old man's walking stick.

- Joel: Ha Ha!
Man: Hey! Come back here!
Woman: Well, that was rude!
Man: Yes, it was!

The old man doesn't realise what has happened because he is still daydreaming.

- Old man: Wha ... wha ... what happened? What was that?
Emily: A boy on a skateboard took your walking stick!
Brad: We should chase him! Come on, Ken!
Old man: No, no. Sit down, boys. That's very kind of you, but don't bother to help an old man like me. You'll miss your bus if you try to catch him.
Lizzie: But how will you get home?
Old man: I don't know. I'm old and I can't see very well.
Emily: But we must help you! We can't just leave you here!
Old man: Well, you can do this for me – search for my daughter's telephone number in this book. Her name is Simone.

Lizzie: Yes, let's call and ask her to pick you up.

Lizzie takes the old man's book and tries to find Simone's number.

Lizzie: Here it is! Emily, can you give me your mobile phone?

Emily gives Lizzie her mobile phone and she phones Simone. There is no answer.

Old man: No answer?

Lizzie shakes her head.

Old man: Oh well, she's probably busy. She's a teacher, you know. I'm very proud of my daughter.

Brad: Wait, I've got an idea! You can come to school with us.

Ken: Yes! Excellent idea! We'll help you to get on the bus and then when we get to school, we'll find someone to take you home!

Old man: No, no, no. I can't let you do that for me! You don't even know me.

Emily: Don't be silly! Of course we can do that for you!

Lizzie: Come on, Brad, help him up. Look! There's the bus at the traffic lights.

Joel walks over. He looks nervous. He is holding the old man's walking stick.

Ken: Why did you take this man's walking stick?

Joel: Er ... because I thought it was fun.

Lizzie: That isn't fun! That's cruel!

Children: Yes. You're nasty!

Mrs Kent walks over to see why the children are shouting.

Mrs Kent: What is happening? I can hear you from the other side of the playground!

Emily: Joel stole this man's walking stick at the bus stop. We brought him here because he can't walk home without it.

Mrs Kent recognises the old man.

Mrs Kent: Dad!

Children: Dad?

Old man: Oh hello, Simone! I had forgotten that you teach at this school!

Brad: This is a surprise!

Mrs Kent: Thank you very much for looking after my father.

All: That's OK, Mrs Kent.

Mrs Kent: Come on, Dad, let's take you home. Joel, you should say sorry to my father.

Joel: I'm sorry. Here's your walking stick.

Joel gives the old man his walking stick.

Lizzie: It was nice to meet you, Mr Kent!

Old man: It was nice to meet you too. Bye!

Mrs Kent: You have been very kind to my father, so I want to thank you. Children, you don't have to come to class today. Your holidays start from now.

Children: Hurray!

Mrs Kent: Joel, you must help me tidy the classroom.

Brad: Let's go to the beach!

All: Yippee!

The Shooting Stars go to the beach and enjoy the summer holidays a day early.

Scene 2

In the playground

The Shooting Stars and the old man are sitting on a bench in the school playground. They are waiting for the bell to ring. Some children are playing near them. Brad sees Joel standing at the school gate.

Brad: Hey, Ken! That's the boy who grabbed the walking stick, isn't it?

Ken: Yes, it is! I know him! His name is Joel - he's in my biology class!

Brad: Hey, Joel!

Emily: Hey, Joel! Yes, you!
