READING

Directions: Read the following then answer questions 10 to 12.

1. Computers have changed the world tremendously nowadays, and the use of computer technology has affected every field of life. Thanks to computers, space exploration has become true, world business has thrived beyond all expectations, entertainment has become much more exciting and new designs of vehicles and other transportation have been made.
2. One area that computers have greatly affected is the business area. Research has proved that 78% of businesses use computers for keeping instant tracks of accounts, money, or even items. You may notice business people using computers a lot, especially portable computers that can be taken to all work areas. You may see people using things like pie-charts and graphs designed by computers while presenting information to other people in business meetings. Furthermore, computers help in keeping important records relating to different kinds of business. These records are then easy to retrieve when the need arises.
3. Another area computers play a significant part in is the entertainment area. Most people like science fiction or action-packed movies, especially those with neat looking visual effects. Graphics, in such movies, are mostly made by computers. Most of the movies today such as Jurassic Park and Star Wars, use computer graphics to make things more realistic and lifelike. Movies like Godzilla, Toy Story or A Bugs' Life, are completely made by computers.
4. ¹Lastly, education is another major field profoundly affected by the use of computers today. ²Studies have shown that Samsung computers are the most reliable worldwide. ³Indeed, computers help students in a lot of projects and essays. ⁴If a student wants for example to do an essay on planet Saturn, he could find related data in an electronic encyclopedia on his computer, or he could simply look up the topic on the Internet. He could also type his essays, which has become mandatory, especially in High Schools.
5. To sum up, it is clear that computers have affected our lives in many positive ways by helping people to save money and effort and perform different tasks quickly and easily. Accordingly, the world would be a harder place to live in without them. Of course some people may disagree, but there is no doubt that computers did make the impossible possible in our modern age.
