Final Exam Parts

MR MOHAMED FATH ALBAB

Part 1:
Reading

Read a text and answer 8 multiple choice questions.

My name is Clara. I am a student. I get up at 7.30 and wash my face. I don't have shower every morning. I have breakfast at 7.45 with my brother. He is also a student and he goes to school with me. We go to school at 8.15 by car. The lessons start at 9.30. We have got eight lessons every day. I have lunch at 12.30 with my classmates. After school I go home with my brother. My brother always wants to play with me but I often feel tired and I don't want to play. I watch TV about thirty minutes and then I do my homework. I always want to finish my homework before dinner. I like talking dinner with my family.

My brother usually doesn't have much homework. He plays with his team. He doesn't like studying. So, he usually watches cartoons on the mother's laptop.

My favourite lesson is English. I learn a lot of new words in English lessons. I think it is very exciting to speak another language.

Answer the questions 1 – 8 according to the text below.

1. What does Clara do every morning?
 A) She goes to school.
 B) She has breakfast.
 C) She watches TV.
 D) She does her homework.

2. What does Clara do every morning?

1. Read about a famous painter and his work

Reading

- 1 Work in pairs. Read a paragraph each about Vincent van Gogh. Then explain to your partner what you learned about him and his art.

Vincent van Gogh (1853–1890) was a painter from the Netherlands, who is known for his paintings of landscapes with fields, trees and flowers. He also painted beautiful pictures of streets and cafés in Paris and Arles, and portraits of his friends. His self-portraits are also well-known. His style was different from that of other painters as he used very bright colours and thick paint that took days to dry.

Vincent was never famous or rich. He only sold one painting while he was alive, so his brother Theo, who worked in an art gallery in Paris, had to send him money to support him. Vincent got sick and died alone in Arles, in the south of France. Today, his paintings are among the most valuable in the world. His painting Portrait of Dr. Gachet, for instance, became one of the ten most expensive paintings in history when it sold for over $150m dollars at auction in 1990.

2 - Read the following passage and answer the questions below:

When something is natural, it comes from nature and it is not manmade. A disaster is something that usually causes major problems. It would be a disaster if a bridge suddenly fell because it was not built properly. Disasters are negative but can be manmade. However, when speaking about natural disasters you can combine the two terms and define them as catastrophes that occur in nature or by natural processes. They are not manmade. A natural disaster takes place in populated areas of the world when lives may be lost, the property is severely damaged, and the economy is negatively affected. Natural disasters may include an asteroid collision with Earth, avalanche, landslide, blizzard, thunderstorm, earthquake, flood, gamma-ray burst (from space), volcano, heat wave, hurricane, solar flare, drought, tornado, tsunami, hail, and wildfire. It is not a natural disaster if it occurs in an unpopulated area and there is no loss of life or property damage. For example, if a tsunami took place on an uninhabited island, it would not be a disaster. Disasters cause a loss. There are many things that can happen during a natural disaster. Sometimes, more than one disaster occurs at the same time. Landslides may occur during severe flooding and thunderstorms. Natural disasters occur throughout the world, and often people know when they are coming and can prepare for them and be safe. Other disasters may occur without warning. Most people die during a natural disaster when there is no time to prepare for it. Though natural disasters cause many problems, injuries, and sometimes death, they are not to be feared, but being aware of them and properly preparing for them is extremely important.

In addition, there are natural disasters that can occur more often in one part of the world or country than in other regions. For example, a person living in the middle of the United States would not need to be concerned with a tsunami, but someone living along the coast would be affected. In the middle of the country, a tornado might occur, but often there are fewer of them along the coast. The top 10 natural disasters most likely occurring throughout the world include blizzards, droughts, earthquakes, floods, heat waves, hurricanes, thunderstorms, tornados, tsunamis, and wildfires. Some of the listed disasters may occur simultaneously such as a hurricane and thunderstorm causing massive flooding, or possibly a tsunami, or a heat wave coupled with wildfires. Other natural disasters include landslides and avalanches, which can be caused by earthquakes, heavy rain or snow, or other disasters. Snow or mud can be released from the side of a mountain or hillside burying the area below. Finally, there are active volcanoes, which are eruptions of a mountaintop, sending out ash clouds, lava, and more, causing damage to property and the loss of human life. The most common types of natural disasters in the world are floods and storms. All natural disasters cause damage and destruction, and often one or more people die due to the effects of the natural disaster. Many of the disasters can be predicted ahead of time with some warnings given for people to prepare and move to safety.

1) All the following statements are true EXCEPT:

A: Disasters can include those made by man.

B: It is not a natural disaster if there is no loss of life.

C: A tsunami taking place on a deserted island is a natural disaster.

D: An asteroid collision with Earth would be a natural disaster.

2) A catastrophe that occurs in nature or by natural processes and causes loss of life is:

A: A manmade disaster

B: A global disaster

C: A natural disaster

D: An unnatural disaster

3) All the following may be natural disasters EXCEPT:

A: Oil spill

B: Landslide

C: Avalanche

D: Volcano

4) Which of the following natural disasters are most likely to occur simultaneously?

A: Heatwaves and droughts

B: Thunderstorms and volcanos

C: Earthquakes and blizzards

D: Wildfires and floods

5) Which of the following may occur during severe flooding and thunderstorms?

A: Earthquakes

B: Landslides

C: Solar flares

D: Wildfires

6) Which part of the United States would most likely experience a tsunami?

A: States on the east coast

B: States on the west coast

C: States in the Midwest

D: Both A and B

Speaker 1: My most treasured possession is a photograph of my grandparents when they were young. It's a very old photo and it's the only one we have. I never used to take it out of the photo album. I was afraid it would get lost. But I've scanned it and have it on my computer now, so that's OK.

Speaker 2: I love my flowers. I keep them in pots inside my flat. They make my space more colourful and cheerful. I like looking after them and I often move them around my flat. Now I have most of them in the living room and in the kitchen.

Speaker 3: My most treasured possession? It's a T-shirt we made for our class when we finished primary school. All the names of my classmates are on it. It reminds me of the good moments we had. I'm a bit worried because I couldn't find it the other day. I hope I find it!

Speaker 4: It's a watch my uncle brought me from Japan. It came in a very nice case and I have it in the drawer. I don't wear it because it's too big for me, but I will when I'm older and my arms are bigger. I can't wait to start wearing it. It's so elegant!

Match the sentences with the correct speaker.

A- I don't know where it is at the moment.
speaker.....

B- I look forward to using it in the future
speaker.....

C- I don't always keep them in the same place speaker.....

D- I am not worried about losing it anymore speaker.....

Passage 5

Read the report then write true or false

Reporter: I'm here in one of the support centres where people continue to arrive. They've lost their homes, their cars and all their personal possessions. They've come here for food, water and, if they're lucky, some clean clothes. Thousands of homes have been destroyed and almost 200 people have been killed. Remote villages in the outback have been hit the worst. I've just spoken to two volunteer firefighters and here's what they told me.

Firefighter 1: We've worked flat out for three days now, trying to stop the blaze from spreading. But the wind has been so strong that it's spreading really quickly and it's very difficult to control it.

Firefighter 2: I've never seen anything like this in my life. It's got to be the worst ever.

Reporter: It all started on Friday when the temperature was well above 40 degrees ...

Passage 6

Are these statements true or false?

- 1 People have now stopped arriving at the support centre.
- 2 People have gone to the centre for food and water.
- 3 Places close to the city centre have been hit the worst.
- 4 The fire is now under control.

• banks • dams • dykes • flat • moveable

Flooding is a major problem in many parts of the world. Some places are very flat¹, which means that water from a river or the sea can easily flood very large areas because there are no hills. People in these places have built dykes². Some of these are over thirty kilometres long! In other places, rivers can become very fast and deep because of heavy rain or snow melt water. In these places people try to find ways to control the water to stop it destroying the farmland along the banks³. One solution is to build dams⁴, which can control a river and store water at the same time. This means farmers can grow crops all year round in dry countries. In other places barriers have been built like the one in London, UK. This is a moveable⁵ flood barrier, which can be opened and closed.

Answer the following Workbook activity.

1 Complete the sentences with the words from the box.

• alive • art galleries • landscapes • portraits • self-portraits • style • support • valuable

My name's George and I study Fine Arts at New York University.

My teachers say I'm good at painting landscapes¹ with mountains. They say I have my own style² of painting clouds and blue skies. I need to get better at portraits³ though, so I often ask my friends to sit for me. I've also tried painting myself, but self-portraits⁴ are so hard!

In my free time, I usually go to the MoMA (Museum of Modern Art in New York) and other art galleries⁵ to look at modern paintings. I also study paintings from the past made by artists who aren't alive⁶. Vincent van Gogh's The Starry Night, probably his most valuable⁷ painting, is in the MoMA and it's my favourite! One day, I hope I'll become a famous artist and that my parents won't have to support⁸ me any more.
