York is a city in the north of England with a very interesting history. It started with the Romans nearly 2000 years ago, and it became an important centre during the Roman Empire. When the Vikings captured the city in the ninth century, they renamed it Jorvik, and, much later, King Richard II actually made York the capital of England. These days, York is much more peaceful. It is an easy and attractive city to get around, as the centre is surrounded by walls that you can walk along. It has lots of beautiful old buildings, such as York Minster, and many interesting museums. One of these, the National Railway Museum, has the finest collection of railway engines and carriages in the country. Not surprisingly, it is next to the railway station, which is outside of the city walls. If you get tired of streets and buildings, however, you can take a boat trip along the river for a few hours.

I've never made a tree-house before. I went with my dad to buy the things that we were going to need. We've got lots of wood and lots of bags of nails. I think Dad's bought too much paint, but that's OK – we can use it for something else. We already had a hammer and two saws – a big one and a little one – but we had to get some rope. The only thing we haven't bought are the windows. It'll be cold without glass!

I arrived at the theatre early, and I looked at the stage before the play started. It was really interesting. There were two sets of stage lights, and three wonderful costumes for the actors to wear. There was a big box of stage make-up on the stage – all the colours were amazing! I also saw two brooms – I think they need to clean the stage before the play starts. And there were three scripts lying on the floor – I think the actors were learning their lines just before I came in!

Tina Sally hasn't learnt her script and it's the play tomorrow evening!

Laura Really? How can she possibly learn all those words in time?!

Tina I don't know. Mrs Nolan says that she's like this every year, and that she always performs perfectly.

Laura That's not quite true. I saw her in a play last year and she kept forgetting her words.

Tina What happened?

Laura They brought her the script on stage!

Tina Let's hope she's learnt her lines this time then.

Tina Oh no! I've just heard that Sally's broken her leg. She was getting ready at home, and she had put on her costume and all her make-up, and then she ran too fast and fell down the stairs! There's no one to play her character.

Our class is taking part in a school project called 'Our Environment'. We have designed questionnaires to give to people in the street. We're going to talk to over a hundred members of the public, mainly about their views on litter and pollution. We hope that when we talk to people they will also give us their ideas on how to clean up the planet. Obviously, we can start by keeping areas like the town centre and the parks clean. But what about after that? What suggestions have people got for reducing pollution and looking after wildlife?

Audio script  102

My sister Patty is very keen on recycling. She helps my mum recycle all the leftover food, and even takes her old clothes to the recycling centre. I think it's just so she can buy more clothes! One strange thing is she doesn't recycle cans or tins, though I suppose she doesn't use that many cans. She's careful not to throw away plastic, though. She always recycles it. My brother George doesn't see the point in recycling things like cardboard or glass. He does read lots of magazines, so Mum makes him take them all to the recycling centre.

1 Mark is training to be a top athlete, so he knows it's important to start the day with a good breakfast. He usually has some fruit, for example melon, along with some cereal and eggs. He doesn't usually have toast. In fact, he doesn't eat much bread at all.

2 Every day, he arrives at the training ground at about 9.15. He gets changed and then has to do special exercise to make his arms and legs warm. It's very dangerous to run around without preparing your body first. His coach starts the proper training session at about ten o'clock, and with an hour break for lunch at 1.00, he goes on until just after four. He gets very tired, but it'll be worth it.

3 At the moment, he can run 100 metres in ten seconds, but he knows that he must improve to compete at the top level. Mark says: "There have always been good athletes from the USA and Jamaica, but who knows where the good runners will come from in future: with better training, my future rivals could come from anywhere."

4 As far as hobbies go, Mark admits that sport is the last thing he wants to do after a hard day's training. While his friends like to go and play basketball and football, Mark is perfectly happy spending time in the kitchen trying out a new recipe. He's actually a pretty good cook.

I had a dream last night that I was in space. It started when a boy of about my own age woke me up and asked me to go with him. I noticed that the time was exactly midnight. It didn't seem strange in my dream that I should follow someone that I didn't know. I very calmly followed him downstairs. I don't remember walking through the door, but the next thing I was aware of I was at the door of a space ship. Everything happened very quickly, and soon I was surrounded by lots of people. They looked ordinary and wore T-shirts and jeans. The boy took me to a room with a small machine in it. It was a bit like a car and a bit like a plane. We got on and flew into space! We landed on a strange planet with lots of unusual rocks. The boy broke a piece of one of the rocks and gave it to me to eat! It was like chocolate and pizza together! Then we flew back to the space ship. When I said I wanted to go home, someone opened the door. I realized that I was looking down at Earth from a long way away. I started to fall, and that's when I woke up properly. It was 9 o'clock and the sun was shining. Everything was normal.

Int When did you first realize that you wanted to be famous?

Man When I was little, I used to go with my parents to the theatre. My dad was an actor, so we often went behind the scenes to meet the people in the play.

Int Did you meet any famous people?

Man My dad introduced me to the great actor Paul Green. He was dressed as a knight! There were lots of other stars as well – Jennifer Kelly was a queen! But it wasn't just the actors. I loved being among all the make-up and costumes. It was amazing. I remember that the director never liked to have small children like me getting in the way, but I didn't care.
