Speaking

Speaking

2 Work with a partner and discuss these questions about yourselves.
Give reasons why.

- Who is tidier?
- Who is more helpful at home?
- Who is more practical?

You're far tidier than I am.

Maybe. But I'm nowhere near as practical as you are.

Use of English: Comparisons

To make comparisons stronger, you can use phrases such as:

much	much tidier than , much more practical than
far ... than	far tidier than , far more practical than
a lot less ... than	a lot less tidy than , a lot less practical than
nowhere near as ... as	nowhere near as tidy as , nowhere near as practical as

Notice that some adjectives take -(i)er in the comparative form, and others need more or less.

You're far tidier than me.

I'm a lot less helpful than you.

I'm nowhere near as practical as you.

To make comparisons stronger between things that are equal, use just as ... as.

You're just as untidy as me!

- 3 Use the following phrases and adjectives to compare Reem's room with Hamad's room (pages 10 and 11).

far ... than

a lot less ... than nowhere near as ... as

just as ... as colourful plain tidy

interesting
