I observe and answer!

Who is the Lord of Mountains and Rivers?

Who is the Lord of animals?

Who is the Lord of Plants?

Who is the Lord of the Sun and the Earth?

Who is the Lord of human beings?

Allah is the Lord of all creatures.
Allah is the Lord of the worlds.

الله

◆ How do animals get their food?

◆ Who taught them?

◆ Why did He teach them?

Thinking Skills

◆ Who taught her to take care of her child?

I infer:
Allah

----- taught animals how to get their food in order to live.

Allah

----- cares for creatures and guides them to their welfare.

Look, Think, read, discuss and reflect

What do you think about this place?

Father says: What do you think about this place, Rashid?

Rashid: The land is dry and has no plants or green grass.

Father: The earth will become green soon, if Allah wills, my son, when it rains.

Rashid: Who sends rain down, Dad?

Father: Allah! It is He Who sends rain down, sends wind and creates clouds. Everything is in His hand.

Rashid: Why don't we ask Him to send rain down?

Father: Good, Rashid. You think positively.

Father and Rashid raised their hands, then the father prayed:

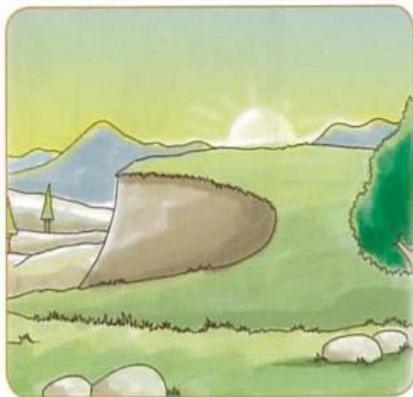

“O Allah, give us rain to drink, and do not make us desperate.

Rashid: Amen!

Allah controls everything.

I notice and discover

Who causes the sun to rise and set every day?

Who keeps birds from falling?

Who heals patients?

Allah controls everything.

Allah is My Lord

I organize my concepts

Allah, my Lord

The Organizer

The Lord of all creatures

Controls everything

Decides what is good for them

Optional Activities!

I color in the word "Allah":

الله رب العالمين

Allah is the Lord of the worlds.

ربي الله

Allah is my Lord.

Reflection and Action

I circle the picture that demonstrate that Allah guides His creatures to good:

I choose the pictures that demonstrate the correct behavior:
