Q1) Read the text and answer the following questions (20 marks)

The oud is a short-necked, pear-shaped musical instrument with five or six pairs of strings. The two strings in each pair sound the same. Traditionally, players plucked the strings with bird's feather. The word oud comes from al-oud which means a branch of wood. The oud is the main instrument in Arab countries and is also popular in Turkey, Iran, Armenia and Azerbaijan. It is the ancestor of the European lute and the guitar. Many people call the oud "the king of instrument" because it is the oldest and more important musical instrument in Middle Eastern music. Nobody is quite sure when it was first made but the ancient Egyptians played a similar instrument, the nefer at the time of pharaohs.
